Reds Threatened To Kill Him, Gen. Dodd Says in Statement

SENATOR AND BRIDE-TO-BE. Sen. Alexander Wiley (R-Wis) and Mrs Dorothy McBride Kydd have a good reason for these smiles—the Senator obtained a license to marry the attractive 41-year-old widow at Alexandria, Va. Wiley, who will be 68 this month, is a grandfather, and has been a widower since August, 1948. Mrs. Kydd came here in 1943 from her native England with the British Air Ministry and recently has been secretary to a private attorney in Washington The senator would not say when the wedding will take place

Argue Steel Case Before High Court

Govt., Industry Attorneys Go Before Supreme Tribunal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorneys for the administration and the vast steel industry opened oral arguments before the Supreme Court today in an historic effort to settle finally whether President Truman's seizure of the steel mills was legal

But the big question—whether the President has inherent powers under the Constitution to seize private industries in national emergencies — may go unanswered because of the various alternative courses open to the high tribunal

In fact, the Justice Department argued that the issue before the courts was whether, "In dealing with an immediate crisis gravely threatening the continuance of the production of perhaps the most essential commodity of our present civilization, the President could take temporary action, of a type not prohibited by either the Constitution or the statutes, to avert the imminent threat . . .

"We believe that the 'solution does not require the pressing of juristic principles to 'abstract extremes'"

The brief concluded:

"We have demonstrated the non-constitutional grounds which, we believe, compel reversal. When the constitutional question is reached, there is ample authorization to sustain the President's action"

The industry is asking the Supreme Court to uphold the April 29 decision of Federal Judge David A Pine. Pine ruled that Truman's steel seizure order of April 8, issued to head off a strike was unconstitutional He ordered the mills returned to their owners

The Justice Department, supported by the CIO Steel Workers Union, is asking that Judge Pine's injunction against seizing the mills be reversed. The Department contends that although the law does not spell out emergency seizure authority such as the President exercised his action is supported adequately by the Constitution.

Several Alternatives

The court may rule on the narrow issue of the injunction itself and not decide the broad problem of just how much unwritten power

Conserve Supply, U.S., Britain Warn

Fear World Shortage Of Aviation Gasoline

DENVER (AP)—With a major settlement for background striking oil worker and company officials got ready for Tuesday's showdown meeting with the Wage Stabilization Board. The government goal: to halt the nationwide strike with its worldwide effects.

The United States and Britain asked all nations to conserve dwindling supplies of aviation gasoline. They warned global restrictions may follow.

Military flying is down to essentials. More civilian flights are suspended each day. Motorists are feeling the growing pinch Three disastrous fires heightened the shortage

O A Knight, president of the CIO Oil Workers International, largest of the 22 unions striking for higher wages, flew to Washington Sunday to prepare for the meeting called by the WSB

Knight has said that, after months of postponement before the walkout started 13 days ago, the striking refinery and pipeline workers are determined not to work without a contract There was no sign they had changed their stand.

West Coast Firm Settles

Scattered agreements have been signed through the industry. But the first major agreement which union officials conceded might set a settlement pattern was okayed by workers Sunday.

It is between the independent union of petroleum workers and Standard Oil of California It provides a basic wage increase of 18½ cents an hour. That's the compromise figure Knight said would be acceptable instead of the 25-cent raise sought originally on the current $2 to $2.10 hourly rate

The contract worked out in Los Angeles also calls for increased shift differentials of 6, 7½ and 12 cents an hour. That's the union goal to replace present night work premiums of 4, 5 and 6 cents

Union To Tighten-Up Strike in Eight States

TOLEDO (AP)—The CIO Oil Workers Union has decided to tighten up its nationwide strike in eight midwestern states.

International union representatives from Ohio, Michigan, Illinois, Kentucky, Wisconsin, Iowa, Indiana and Minnesota met here Sunday to discuss strike strategy They said they would try to "tighten up picketing at all points where it may be legal to do so."

In Cleveland, the union withdrew pickets from a lubricating oil refinery of the Standard Oil Co. (OHIO). The pickets stayed on, however, at two of Sohio's gasoline refineries, one here and one at Cleveland

Eisenhower, Taft Pick Up More Votes

Wyoming, Rhode Is. Primaries Lead Off Big Political Week

By The Associated Press

Both Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower expect to win new national convention delegate votes today as Wyoming and Rhode Island Republicans meet in state conventions to select 20

Wyoming Democrats also are meeting to elect 10 delegates. Sen Estes Kefauver of Tennessee attended a pre-convention caucus Sunday night before leaving for Denver today, later Oregon.

Taft counted on picking up a majority of Wyoming's 12 GOP votes, but Eisenhower backers in Casper said "There'll be a hell of a fight" if GOP state leaders don't agree to a split giving at least five to the general

Eisenhower forces in Rhode Island were confident they would get most, if not all, of Rhode Island's eight delegate votes to the Chicago nominating convention

As the busy political week got underway—13 conventions with 166 delegate votes at stake—Taft had 343 votes and Eisenhower 280, according to an Associated Press tally based on delegates pledged, conceded, instructed, favorable, or willing to state a first ballot choice.

Both GOP contenders picked up new votes Saturday. Taft added 11 and Eisenhower four as 86 delegates were selected in party meetings in Nevada, Utah, Michigan, Missouri and Virginia Republicans chose 24, Democrats 62, most of whom were uncommitted and uninstructed.

Briefly, here's how the weekend delegate gatherings shaped up

RELEASED GENERAL REACHES SEOUL. Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd (right), freed after four days as a hostage of Communist prisoners of war in the Koje Island prison camp he commanded, arrives in Seoul, Korea by air from Koje. Greeting him is Brig. Gen. Charles W. Christenberry, Eighth Army deputy chief of staff. Gen Dodd, apparently well and in good spirits, was released from the prison stockade into which he had been snatched by the Red prisoners.

Army Lifts Secrecy Veil On Incident

Gen. Clark Hints U.S. May Back Out On Concessions Made

SEOUL, KOREA (AP)—Brig. Gen. Francis T. Dodd said tonight Communist prisoners of war who held him hostage on Koje Island four days last week threatened to kill him if the U.S. Eighth Army tried to rescue him by force.

Gen. Mark W. Clark, new supreme U.N. commander, said in Tokyo the Red POWS were granted some minor concessions. He termed their original demands for Dodds' release "unadulterated blackmail." He seemed to hint they would not be honored.

Clark said the reply to the prisoners "was made under duress at a time when the life of General Dodd was at stake

"Any commitments made x x x as a result of such demands should be interpreted accordingly."

Dodd read a statement to correspondents saying he was convinced the United Nations command threats to use force "had a decided effect" in obtaining his release Saturday night.

The correspondents were not permitted to question the general. It was the first time they had been allowed to see him.

Dodd said he was well treated by the Reds while a captive in Compound 76 on the island—the U.N. No. 1 camp for tough prisoners. He seemed healthy.

Planned In Advance

Newsmen were permitted to visit Koje today for the first time since the Wednesday seizure of Dodd, then prison camp commander there.

Stockade officers said the prisoners apparently had planned the capture at least a week in advance. Within minutes after they seized Dodd, the Reds broke out banners saying:

"We captured Dodd. If our problems are resolved his security is guaranteed If there is any brutal act or shooting, his life is in danger."

Clark said a full investigation of "the violent and treacherous kidnaping of General Dodd and the circumstances surrounding the negotiations and his ultimate release" is under way.

Brig. Gen. Charles Colson, Charleston, S.C., was placed in command of the Koje camp on Thursday, the day after Dodd was seized.

The general, reading from a four-page statement, in a clear, strong voice, said "the demands made by the POWS are inconsequential and the concessions granted by the camp authorities were of minor importance."

Dodd read his statement to the press after being held behind a wall of secrecy for 48 hours. He wore a pistol on his hip, strapped into a holster with a gaudy silver buckle.

He seemed healthy, despite his ordeal.

Allow No Questions

Newsmen were not permitted to ask the general a single question when he finished his prepared statement.

In the statement Dodd said he had been well treated in Compound 76, where 6,000 die-hard North Korean Communist soldiers are POWS He said the Reds gave him medical attention and "attended to my personal needs."

The general described a preliminary meeting at which the prisoners explained their grievances about "food, clothing, medical supplies" and several alleged "injuries to the prisoners." They gave him a chance to reply, then voted on the answer.

He said the meeting was presided over by Col. Lee Rak Koo, "elected leader" of a prisoner association inside the compound. "It appeared that in all cases (of dispute) Colonel Lee ruled in my favor," said Dodd.

The general said he was housed in a blanket-covered room in a "previously prepared tent."

There were "rice mats on the floor, a built-in bunk, a table with flowers, and a rack on which to hang my clothes," said Dodd.

He also said the Communists

160 Blood Donors Needed

Bloodmobile Sets Visit Wednesday

An SOS for donors when the Red Cross Bloodmoile Unit visits Marion Wednesday, is being sounded today by the chapter office

As on former visits 160 donors are needed to supply the county's quota of 125 pints of blood for use in caring for the wounded in the armed forces and in civilian hospitals. The general public is asked to respond by making appointments at the chapter office, 2-1663.

Gen. Ridgway Leaves Japan For Europe

New NATO Chief Given Big Sendoff At Tokyo Airport

TOKYO (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, who blocked the Communists in Korea and engineered the end of the Allied occupation of Japan, left today on his way to Europe to succeed Gen Dwight Eisenhower as commander of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization

It was only a year, a month and a day ago that Ridgway, soldier, diplomat and Pentagon troubleshooter, took over from Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme commander of Allied Powers in Japan.

As he left he turned over his United Nations and far eastern commands to Gen Mark Clark. Clark then kissed the young and charming Mrs Ridgway goodbye and she walked up the plane ramp with her distinguished husband.

The glistening Constellation left at 3 09 p m (1:09 a m EST) for Honolulu.

At Haneda airport were diplomats and high brass. The crowd cheered when Ridgway said from the plane ramp:

"I am deeply honored by this ceremony. To see the Armed Forces lined up side by side seems to me not only a tribute of purpose but also of the peoples they represent and all the free people of the world."

Local Picture Normal; Some See Rationing

The gasoline situation in Marion appears to be about normal, although some distributors paint a gloomy picture of things to come.

There have been no shutdowns, no rationing, and nobody turned away from any stations in Marion so far.

However, future prospects call for a possible rationing system or complete shutdown of some stations if the gasoline squeeze continues.

Distributors report they have received no word as yet about when they should start slowing their gasoline sales

The Standard Oil Co. reports two of its refineries are still operating in the state and their prospects for the future are good Other distributors report they have been caught in the middle by the strike of refinery workers.

Bucyrus Guardsman Accidentally Shot

ZANESVILLE (AP)—Cpl. James Carl, 23, of Bucyrus, an Ohio National guardsman, was accidentally shot yesterday while on weekend maneuvers at nearby Blue Rock State Park.

W. V. Goshorn Dies at Galion

GALION—William V. Goshorn, 74, publisher of The Galion Inquirer, died in his sleep Sunday night or early today. Dr. B. P. Mansfield, Crawford County coroner, returned a verdict of heart attack. Mr. Goshorn had suffered a heart attack several months ago and was hospitalized for some time, but had been able to be at the newspaper office about every day lately.

Customarily, he had breakfast at the home of a son, Walter, across the street from his own residence, and about 9 o'clock, when he failed to arrive for the meal this morning, his daughter-in-law investigated. On discovering his body, she called her husband who had left for the newspaper office.

Born Feb. 14, 1878, he was a native of Galion. A graduate of Galion High School, he was graduated from Wooster College in 1901. He was Galion postmaster at different times, for a total of 21 years, retiring June 20, 1948.

Active in the Democratic Party politically, he was clerk of the Ohio Senate from 1910 to 1915. He was a charter member of Rotary

Senate Calls Marion Man For Testimony

Bachelder, Columbus Resident To Testify At McCarthy Hearing

Perry Bachelder, Marion advertising man, and Clark Wideman, former Marion man who is now a public relations agent in Columbus, were among eight persons called to Washington today to testify before the Senate elections subcommittee which is investigating Sen. Joseph McCarthy's dealings with the Lustron Corp, of Columbus, defunct prefabricated housing company, The United Press reported.

The Lustron case was one of 10 examples cited by Sen. William Benton (D-Connecticut) as to why McCarthy is unfit to sit in the Senate and should be expelled or censured.

Bachelder is an account executive for the Jay H. Maish Co., which handled an advertising account for the Lustron Corp. for a time.

Named Co-Author

Wideman was connected with a Columbus public relations firm which handled a Lustron account. He has previously been named co-author of a booklet on housing for which McCarthy allegedly accepted royalties from the Lustron Corp.

Benton claimed McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, "violated the most elementary code of conduct" in accepting $10,000 in royalties for the booklet.

At the time, Benton noted, McCarthy was a member of the Senate Banking and Currency committee, which has jurisdiction over RFC, Lustron's creditor.

McCarthy has denied there was anything improper in his dealings with Lustron. He has said he never intervened with the RFC on behalf of Lustron.

Appeared in Marion

McCarthy appeared in Marion shortly after the booklet was published to address builders and civic leaders at the Marion Country Club. He made that appearance in September, 1950, and was accompanied by Bob Byers, Columbus real estate man who had hoped to set up a low cost housing project in Marion.

Other witnesses summoned to testify were:

A representative of the RFC's legal division; Carl Strandlund, former president of Lustron; Lorenzo Semple, former Lustron vice president; Walter Royal, information staff member of the housing & Home Finance Agency; New York Writer Maron Simon; and Harold Denton, a Lustron employe.

McCarthy was invited to testify, but he has indicated he would boycott the hearings.

Women's Marine Corps Totaled 18,838 at Peak

(Third of five articles on women in U.S. military services)

By JANE EADS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — The young woman who donned the natty forest green uniform and high-crowned billed cap after Feb. 13, 1943, was answering the call to "free a Marine to fight." She was a member of the newly-established Marine Corps Women's Reserve, which boasted 18,838 officers and enlisted women by May of 1945, serving at Marine Corps posts and stations throughout this country and in Hawaii.

So universally good-looking were the lady "leathernecks" that their male counterparts used to boast they had been "screened" by the Conover and Powers model agencies

Although women have served as "regulars" in the Marine Corps only since Congress authorized their permanent status on June 12, 1948, their service in the corps actually began back in 1918. A few hundred uniformed enlisted women reserves filled clerical billets in World War I.

Most of the women were demobilized at the end of the second world war, but a trained nucleus was retained. It proved itself ready when rapid mobilization was ordered at the outbreak of fighting in Korea in June 1950. The Marine Corps was the first service to establish an organized reserve platoon for women. Now on duty are 2,415 enlisted women and 116 commissioned officers. The goal for enlisted women is currently set at 150 a month.

First director of the Women Marines was Col. Ruth Cheney Streeter, a wife of a retired Morristown, N.J. banker and mother of four children. Her three sons are all veterans of World War II. She was awarded the Legion of Merit by the Secretary of the Navy in February 1946.

Current director is Col. Katharine A. Towle, former assistant dean of women at the University of California. Commissioned directly from civilian life as a captain in 1943, when the reserve was started, she served 3½ years during the war. She went back to the university with the reserve rank of colonel but returned to the Corps in her present capacity in October 1948. For her wartime service she received the Navy Letter of Commendation with Ribbon.

During the war Women Marines were assigned to practically every type of non-combatant service.

WEATHER NOT SO GOOD

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — The state board of education has conceded that Connecticut weather is not suitable for modern - type schools which are built to take advantage of daylight for illumination. Noting that Connecticut has only about 100 clear days a year, the board ordered that schools be built to rely chiefly on artificial illumination.

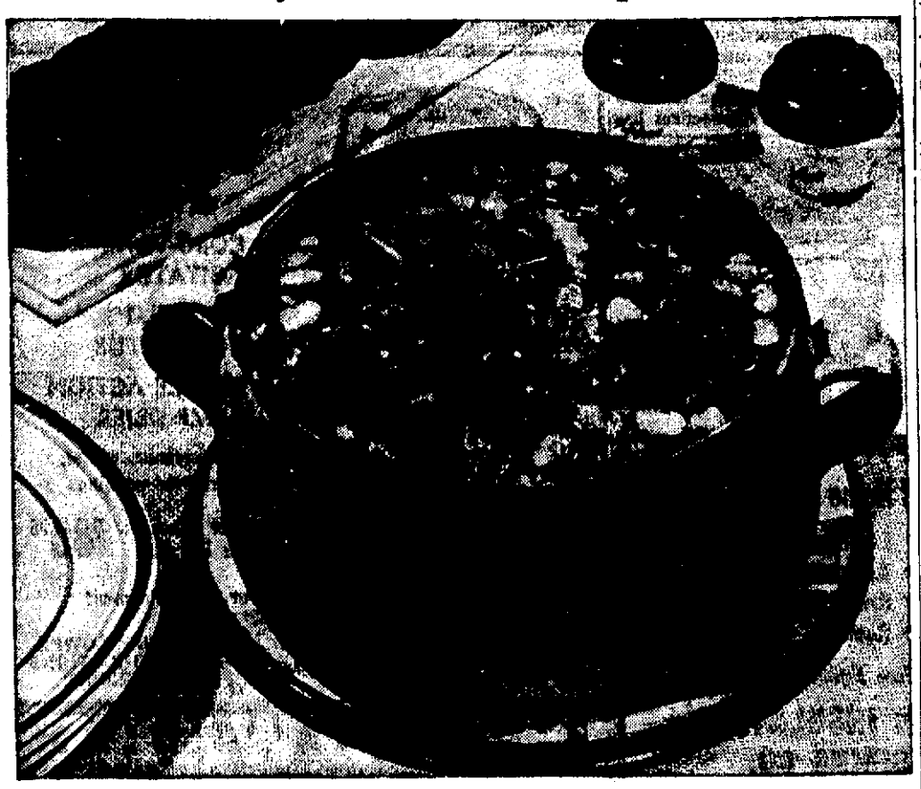
Molasses Is Key to Lima Bean-Spareribs Dish



For Grandma, in her cooking, old fashioned molasses was a must. It gave the delicious, satisfying flavor and appetizing color to her baked beans, brown bread and gingerbread. In the kind of dish that helped make her famous, barbecued lima beans and spareribs, you'll find molasses lends a savory appeal certain to make you a popular cook, too.

BARBECUED LIMA BEANS AND SPARERIBS

2 cups (1 lb.) dried Lima beans
6 cups (1 large can) tomato juice.
3 t salt
2 lbs. spareribs
1 t salt
1 medium-sized onion, chopped
¼ t black pepper
1 t dry mustard
1 t tabasco sauce
½ cup unsulphured molasses

Wash beans; soak overnight in 5 cups tomato juice. Add the salt. Cover. Simmer until beans are tender. (Do not boil). Pour half the beans into a casserole. Rug the 1 teaspoon salt over spareribs; place over beans. Add onion. Mix remaining ingredients with remaining 1 cup tomato juice; pour over beans. Cover. Bake 1½ hours in moderately slow oven (325° F.) Uncover, bake until brown (20 or 30 minutes). Yields 10 to 12 servings.

Third-Quarter Demand For Steel Strong

CLEVELAND (AP)—Steel company sales executives are surprised that there is enough demand for their products to keep third-quarter order books filled, the magazine Steel said today.

"They had thought," Steel continued, "there would not be enough demand to keep ingot production up to capacity levels after the second quarter.

"Crowding into the third quarter, too, will be a carryover of orders that could not be filled in the second quarter because of the work stoppages."

Estimating that 2,360,000 net tons of raw steel were lost because of the recent strikes, Steel said that would be enough to build 1,000,000 automobiles.

At the same time, Steel said, the "recent flurry in the automobile industry's demand for cold-rolled carbon sheets is believed to have passed its crest.

"Demand from the appliance industry for cold-rolled sheets remains dull and there are further order cancellations from these consumers.

"Nevertheless, the regular price producers of sheet are booked through the third quarter or for as much of that period as they wish to commit."

Steel estimated that steel production rose from 3 per cent a week ago to 83 per cent last week.

Mother Wins Out

By Hal Boyle

KANSAS CITY

Many an American mother today is resting after the ordeal of being a mother on Mother's Day.

That is the situation in our family.

For years we have tried to mother Mom on Mother's Day. But Mom is hard to mother. She is so used to pampering her five children and two grandchildren that it is hard for her to relax and let them pamper her.

Somehow she has got the whole idea of Mother's Day confused. To her it is a kind of test of her mettle as a parent.

Year after year the kids try to figure out a way to do something special to please her. But it always ends up with Mama doing something for us.

"Now this year we are going to take you out to dinner and celebrate," we tell her. "You never get out of that kitchen."

"Well, that'll be real nice," says Mama. And then she begins to hedge. She points out how much bother it is to go out. She is sure the resturants will all be too crowded on Mother's Day anyway.

"I'll tell you what," she says. "I'll fry up a couple of chickens, and let's see—I guess we'll have strawberry shortcake for dessert."

And she always has her way. Come Mother's Day and she slaves harder than ever over that old hot stove. The kids sit in the dining room and stuff themselves like harvest hands while Mom brings in platter after platter of fried chicken. The only help she gets—would accept—is a little assistance later in drying the dishes.

Everybody then sits around gabbing and criticizing the government. In the evening the whole family raids the icebox together, and Mom says:

"Now, isn't this better than going out?"

She is all worn out from overworking on Mother's Day. But she has celebrated it in the way she likes best. She has had the family together in the home, and done something for them.

Most mothers are happy to receive gifts of candy and flowers from their children. Not our Mom. She gets angry. She thinks that is wasteful. The only thing we can give her is some money, and all she does with the money is to stow it away in an old sock or something to leave to her grandchildren.

Mom has spent her life doing things for her children, and she has never got around to the thought that maybe the children ought to start mothering her.

This year she will be 64 years old, and time and trouble have made her serene. She has no bitterness toward life. She feels sorry for young wives today.

"They have a lot more gadgets to help them do their housework," she said. "But somehow I don't believe they have the feeling of security I had when I married."

As Mom and Dad started housekeeping on $15 a week, this theory is hard for me to accept. But she says everybody worked harder and felt more secure a generation ago than they do today. And probably she is right.

MOM is the philosopher in the family. She thinks people must lead their own lives, and that it doesn't do any good to try to lead their lives for them. She gives her advice in an oblique way. I still carry in my wallet a faded newspaper clipping that Mom once mailed to me. She had underlined in ink this sentence:

"Child, child, don't you know there'll be another day?"

You can swing it if you try

HAVE you, by any chance, been casting eyes at a Buick, and promising yourself that someday you will take the Big Step and have one all your own?

Let us whisper something to you. The "big step" isn't big at all.

We know that's true, because such a high percentage of present Buick owners traded in a car tagged as belonging in "the low-priced field."

So why not set your sights on this star performer?

Why not enjoy big-car comfort—big-car power—big-car prestige for your money?

There's one of these lively lovelies waiting for you to come in and try it.

Get the feel of its mighty Fireball 8 Engine, that's a gas-saving high-compression valve-in-head. You could pay $300 to $400 more for a car that doesn't match its horsepower.

Get the feel of Dynaflow Drive*, that lets you ride relaxed—feeds a silken flow of power—and at the same time cuts down on upkeep costs, by protecting the engine, the rear end, and even the tires, from driving strains.

Get the feel of a ride that cost a million dollars and more for controls of end-sway and side-roll and vertical "throw"—for X-bracing the frame and V-bracing the torque-tube keel—for a total of 15 ride-engineering features.

One thing you'll know for sure when you've tried it. This car wasn't "built to a price." It's a Buick through and through.

But the fact remains that—when you check the price of a Buick SPECIAL against the price tags on so-called "low-priced cars"—you'll find out you can swing it if you really want to.

And brother, will that make your family happy!

Preventive Hardware

IF YOU have kept track of the long, earnest struggle by each branch of the armed services to keep itself from playing second fiddle, the atomic cannon announced by the U.S. Army needs no further explanation.

It marks the bid of the ground forces for a major role in atomic warfare. The U S. Navy has taken leadership in the guided-missile warfare on a rocket basis. The U.S. Air Force holds leadership in strategic bombing. But the Army, which a few years ago was supposed to fade away in the presence of aerial bombing, has come back strong with its artillery version of the same thing.

You can take sides in the argument over which should be the preeminent branch of the armed forces, or you can conclude that each has its job to do, which is a more reasonable attitude.

But above all it is desirable that you understand the underlying thesis of everything being done in the name of national defense.

It is the thesis that the United States can avert war if it possesses enough preventive hardware to make war too dangerous for a would-be aggressor.

How much that would be is problematic. But atomic bombs deliverable to any point on earth by plane, atomic artillery to back up ground forces and the world's largest navy equipped with guided missiles carrying atomic warheads represent a fair beginning.

Wage Stabilization, Military Style

A CONGRESSIONAL compromise on a military pay boost is expected to give members of the armed services a 4 per cent jump in base rates and a 14 per cent increase in food and rental allowances.

This adjustment has been kicked around in Congress since January and has been a thumping headache for all concerned. Like everybody else, military personnel would like to have more to go and come on.

But the similarity ends there.

Congress, itself, reserves the right to regulate military pay; it does not hand over the job to the Executive, to hand over to a Wage Stabilization Board composed of six enlisted men, six politicians and six relatives of the enlisted men.

There are no deep-dish powwows with appointive officials in charge of prices at military canteens, the sustained production of artillery and small-arms fire and political angles. The case for the man in uniform stands on its own feet under legislative scrutiny, or it falls on its face.

One more difference: there are no threats of walking off the job and no threats of seizure. In the military wage case, the employes already are working for the government, which cannot be expected to seize itself, a la Bert Wheeler, and take two falls out of three

Shadow of a Lion

NOT everything in British politics foreshadows the outcome of the same trends in American politics. But the strong similarity of patterns in the two English-speaking countries is well worth noting.

Especially noteworthy for American conservatives at the moment is the trend away from the British Conservative Party, which took over the government last fall after the Labor Party's six-year experiment with state socialism

There is a lesson to be learned.

British Conservatives under Winston Churchill took advantage of a reaction from the Labor Party's inevitable troubles with an overdose of socialism. But the question then became whether or not the Conservatives could hold the political advantage which circumstances had given them.

The answer to the question so far is not encouraging. The Conservatives are stuck with me-tooism.

The reward for me-tooism in Britain is no greater than it has been and is likely to be in the United States.

First Duty of the Governed

THE Tax Foundation, whose purpose is to dig out half-known and wholly-concealed facts about taxation, comes up with the information that hidden taxes on an income of $70 a week may amount to more than twice as much as the federal income tax.

For a family of three and a fraction—that statistical monstrosity which always suggests fractional infanticide—the hidden taxes would be $798 against about $300. At the $15,000 level, the same family pays about $2,600 in income tax, then pays $4,000 in hidden taxes.

This is one more explanation for the phenomenon of indifference to remote taxes, accompanied by close attention to taxes collected locally. The taxes that are kept out of sight are kept out of mind. The federal government collects billions which can be spent for good, bad and indifferent projects all over the world, while local government scrounges for hundreds of dollars to pay for housekeeping necessities.

The first duty of the governed is to control their own purse. Neglect of duty has made it possible for remote spenders to run hogwild at the expense of the people who foot the bill.

Chaining Power

By George E. Sokolsky

Limiting Presidential Tenure Corrects Fault

THOMAS JAMES NORTON, an important scholar in the field of government, in his book, "Undermining The Constitution," says:

"The constitutional government of the United States is scientific. Science is defined as classified knowledge, or the conclusions which the classification compels. The causes of all the breakdowns of governments in history were gone over in the Constitutional Convention and it was concluded that law making, law enforcing, and law interpreting must be definitely in different hands

"All officials, state and national, were put under oath to support the Constitution and observe the boundaries to power specified in it. As far as could be, men with power were chained,"

The problem that the founding fathers faced was the abuse of power. George III and his minister, Lord North, had abused power. Because of that, they lost the richest jewel in the British crown, the American colonies that subsequently became the United States.

THOSE WHO WROTE our Constitution realized that the day might come when the United States itself would find power abused by officials chosen by the electorate They sought to avert such a condition, but Jefferson once wrote of the Constitution, "it would still have one fault in my eye, that of perpetual re-eligibility of the President"

The American people have corrected this fault by the Twenty-Second Amendment to the Constitution, which limits the President to two terms. This amendment became necessary because Franklin D. Roosevelt had violated the unwritten tradition established by George Washington of a two-term limitation.

However, the two-term limitation can have an effect contrary to that desired, namely, that the President, not seeking public approval, may, if he is not restrained by morals, act irresponsibly. This spectacle, we are, in a measure, now witnessing in the President's claim to unlimited power, which has had to go to the Supreme Court for decision.

The method by which the President is chosen of very great importance, as in it is involved what Alexander Hamilton called cabal, intrigue, corruption. In 1932, the principal Democratic contestants for the Presidency were: Alfred E. Smith, Newton D. Baker, Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Nance Garner. The most popular candidate was Al Smith; the most skillful manager was James A. Farley.

IT IS NO SECRET that Franklin D. Roosevelt was nominated through the influence of William Randolph Hearst. Henry L. Stoddard, in "It Costs to Be President," recited the following:

" Paul Block, the well-known publisher, and I sat in his room for a good-night exchange of opinion. He then said that he had been talking over the telephone with 'W. R.' and that a deal had been arranged by which the 69 Texas and California delegates, after complimenting Garner on two or three ballots, would swing to Roosevelt. He added that Garner would go on the ticket as vice president and McAdoo was to have no opposition in California for the Democratic nomination for U. S. senator.

"The news was in confidence, however, for Hearst, of course, had no power to release delegates pledged to any candidate That was for Garner and McAdoo to do. Hearst, however undertook to talk with both of them and with Mayor Cermak of Chicago, who controlled the Illinois delegation. He persuaded all three that after a few ballots they should turn to Roosevelt, and they did."

THIS, IN EFFECT, nullified the convention. It was similar to the nomination of Warren G Harding through the influence of Colonel George Harvey in the smoke-filled hotel room. In the 1940 convention, Thomas Lamont and the National Association of Manufacturers put over a former member of Tammany Hall, Wendell Willkie, on the Republican Party.

In fact, anyone who attends the convention of either party, which this year will be on television, knows that debate, discussion, due consideration is impossible. Starting slowly and dully, the convention moves, in a crescendo, to the roar of a circus.

The delegates shout and shriek and march about in mass pandemonium. They even hire actors to help them in their antics and I presume, now that television has been added, there will be the usual models in differing degrees of undress. In this raucous atmosphere, few men can deliberate. So, the more serious-minded gather in hotel rooms to transact their business and the telephone becomes a more important instrument of the people's will than the chosen delegate.

"My Friends"

By TRUMAN TWILL

A TELEVISION SCHOOL for presidential and senatorial hopefuls has been set up by CBS-TV. Later, it will be expanded to take in all members of Congress who want to learn about this new medium for making friends and critics

While viewers are not going to be represented on the school's faculty, some of us have firm opinions about what should be in the curriculum.

Those of us who are working in newspaper shops have an especially firm opinion that political aspirants and office holders should quit saying things that have to be unsaid the next day. First radio and now television discourage what formerly was the dirty practice of claiming miquotation by newspapers From now on, except for straight-out press interviews and unrecorded speeches, the speakers either will have said it or they won't have said it. There will be no more quibbling.

The aim of the TV schooling should be to teach mush-mouthers, face-twisters, arm - wavers and pool-hall orators how to keep themselves from alienating the audience It should take up where the public speaking instructors who have been struggling with the bad habits of American talkers left off—which was too soon.

There is not more than one speaker in a hundred in this country who can perform for a quarter of an hour without rubbing his listeners raw with errors and mannerisms so offensively conspicuous they betray the speaker's contempt of his listeners and of the very art of speaking

Some of the best addresses being made, many of them ghost-written, are turned over to the callous mercies of speakers who know no more about the art than a goose knows about sin. That is the kind of thing which will be even more disastrous in the age of TV than it has been before—and it has done irreparable damage to the prestige of many an oratorical cripple.

BUT IT MAY BE foolish to indulge any hope of improvement, because if there has been none after all these years all hope may be vain. Only a few weeks ago a businessman named Randall created a mild sensation with an articulate and skillful presentation of his point of view in the steel dispute; it was an unprecedented performance for what should be one of the most articulate groups in the world.

The instructors who are going to tackle the job of bestowing the gift of plausible and persuasive gab on people too lazy to do anything about it before are probably licked before they start. They have worked hard on Harry Truman, without results. They worked with Herbert Hoover when he was president. They tackled Alf Landon and Wendell Willkie, hoping to bring them up to the standard set by Franklin D. Roosevelt, the pace setter of our times.

They didn't have much luck. Thomas E Dewey, who was supposed to be their brightest pupil, lacked plausibility. It remains to be seen whether television will make the problem of maintaining confidence in leadership worse or better; it probably will make it worse. The TV instructors may be lucky if they can school the orators of the next few years well enough to justify the high cost of using the facilities of the TV networks at all.

He Got Himself Into It

Convention System Justified

By Raymond Moley

TULSA, OKLA.

THIS IS WRITTEN after two weeks in Texas, during which I got a clear view of the great battle there for the control of the two political parties. At this stage it seems that the conservative, anti-Fair Deal Democrats will prevail over the self-styled "loyalists." In the Republican Party a rush of Eisenhower votes has greatly outnumbered the old Republican leaders who were for Taft. In both cases the result is unquestionably a fair expression of popular government, and it has been accomplished through the once-derided convention system.

For those citizens who do their political duty there is no better way to exercise influence than through conventions. They are a real training in active citizenship. Properly conducted, they are a fair way to choose candidates for office. There are those who say that when few people care to exercise their political rights conventions become the tools of selfish bosses. The answer is that no system works when the public refuses to do its duty. When apathy prevails, there are much worse influences operating in direct primaries than evil bosses.

FORTY YEARS AGO, when so-called "progressivism" was sweeping the country, the convention system was regarded as an evil center of infection. The rallying cry was to give the government back to the people through direct primaries. And so in many states direct primaries were adopted. We have now had a good trial of those primaries, and that trial has not justified the claim of the advocates of direct government. The fact is that direct primaries have contributed heavily to the decline of the two-party system, they have made parties less responsible, and in general they have been unsatisfactory means of choosing candidates for high office. What is worse, they have helped to build up political mountebanks and demagogues.

I ask any responsible man to pose for himself the question whether Estes Kefauver has the record, the experience, or the capacity to be the candidate of a major party for the Presidency of the United States. But by leaping into the great empty void of the primaries, he has won more than any other Democrat.

IN THE PRECINCT and county conventions in Texas, a clear choice has been made through an open and popularly understood and operated device. The precinct conventions were very large this year. All records were broken, which shows that when a real issue is presented and zealous, public-spirited leaders get out the vote, the public will respond. These precinct conventions were vastly better exercises in citizenship than direct primaries, because they required much more than merely the dropping of a ballot into a box. They involved the use of parliamentary procedure, public debate, and face-to-face contact with the opposition. In short, they gave the citizen more to do.

It should be added that the law has something to do with the quality of conventions. Bad election laws make for bad and unrepresentative conventions But in Texas the law has been thoroughly overhauled, and in this first test of the new regulations the result was good.

Of course, the results of these early conventions may be thrown out by subsequent conventions. But the remedy for such instances should be in the courts rather than in a direct appeal to the people.

The best way to put new life into the party system might well be to return to a new and more popular form of convention system. Texas provides the model for this.

New Washington Hostess

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON

MRS. DAVID K. BRUCE, wife of the new undersecretary of state, is expected to shine as one of the capital's most distinguished official hostesses.

She has already won laurels in an exacting role in Paris, where for the past three years her husband has been serving as ambassador. Practically brought up for the job, she is a gracious and attractive young woman with great chic. Her late father and stepfather were both in the foreign service, and she grew up in legations and embassies around the world. She lived in Stockholm, The Hague, Berne, Tokyo and Copenhagen and went to school in Rome, Stockholm and Paris. She spoke several languages as a child, including Japanese, but she says she has retained only French and German. These she speaks fluently.

Since her recent return to the United States, she has been so busy helping the 3 Bruce youngsters, Alexander (Sasha), 6, David, 4, and Nicholas, 1, and her four French servants get acclimated to life in America, and to getting settled in the handsome Bruce home in Georgetown that she's had little time to give to planning parties. However, she and her husband have been widely entertained.

In addition to sprucing up the Washington residence, she has opened the Bruce country estate, Staunton Hill, near Lynchburg, Va., worked up the gardens in both places, enrolled Sasha and David in dancing classes and has seen to it that the family's cocker spaniels, Brewster and Carlos are happy back home again

Nevertheless, she says if need be, she could give a dinner party on a moment's notice, so accustomed is she to the role of hostess. She prefers to give big parties. "They run themselves," she told me.

Though she received her early schooling abroad, Mrs Bruce, the former Evangeline Bell, came home to go to college. She was graduated from Radcliffe, where she was a history major.

For a while she was private secretary to Francis Biddle, when he was U. S. Attorney General, then went to work in the Intelligence division of the Office of Strategic Services (OSS) in London, where she met her husband, boss of the OSS European set-up during the war.

During her stay in Paris, Mrs. Bruce was elected to the French capital's best-dressed lists. Simplicity and suitability keynote her fashion choices. Gray flannel suits and separate skirts are her daytime favorites, and she likes white, gray and biege for evening. She brought a number of new French creations with her, but she contends American summer cottons and sports clothes are "unbeatable anywhere"

Marion County History Brevities

By EDNA S. DUTTON

Locking the teacher out on the day before Christmas until he would agree to treat with apples and cider, was widely practiced in the schools of early days. On that morning the scholers would get to the school before daylight and by piling the benches against the door would have it securely fastened when the teacher arrived. One young man, Cyrus Carter, who taught District 5, in 1842, tried to outwit the pupils by climbing upon the roof and removing some boards, dropped to the floor. He no sooner landed than the large girls of the school caught him and raising one of the boards, put him in the hole underneath the floor where they kept him until he agreed to treat.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

I read three of the candidates' remarks on Mother's Day and you can discount the possibility that motherhood will be an issue at Chicago

—:—

They were all for it in varying degrees and a fourth candidate was indicated by his spokesmen to be ready to come out for it at the proper time.

—:—

Anyway, mother and grandmother can now settle back for another 364 days of non-recognition of their importance to us.

—:—

Personally I feel that we could afford to lavish affection on all mothers and grandmothers every day and if you will just send me grandma Dietrich's address I will start immediately.

—:—

Some don't think Marlene is the ideal "grandmother type" but there have been no complaints from the boy babies.

And if you give it a minute's thought you will have to admit that probably nobody ever whistled at Whistler's Mother let alone his grandmother.

The couple repeated their vows at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon before the church altar banked with palms, baskets of white gladioli, snapdragons and carnations and lighted candles in four seven branch candelabra. White flowers held in the altar vases completed the decorations. Marking the family pews were white bows combined with foliage. The pastor, the Rev. M. E. Hollensen, officiated for the double ring service.

A half-hour program of nuptial music was presented preceding the ceremony by Mrs. Richard Curren, organist, and Miss Mary Lou Swigart, vocalist.

Lighting the candles were Misses JoAnn Curren and Nancy Curren, sisters of the bridegroom.

Bride's Gown

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of chantilly lace over satin and nylon tulle. The bodice was fashioned with a scalloped portrait neckline trimmed with rhinestones and the fitted sleeves ended in points over the hands. A cloche headdress matching her gown held a shoulder length veil of illusion. She carried a handkerchief which had been carried by her grandmother, Mrs. John Deibel, at her wedding 52 years ago and by her mother at her wedding 27 years ago, and her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls and earrings, a gift from the bridegroom. Her bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white carnations and stephanotis centered with two white orchids..

Gowns of the maid of honor and bridesmaid were ballerina length and styled alike with bodices of lace with nylon ruching, over which were worn boleros of lace, and skirts of nylon with an apron effect of lace. Mrs. Pletcher was in yellow and carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations tied with aqua satin ribbon. She wore a tiara of pink carnations in her hair. Miss Barkley was in aqua, carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations tied with yellow ribbon, and wore a tiara of pink carnations in her hair.

She wore a pink carnation halo in her hair and carried a miniature colonial bouquet of white carnations tied with pink satin ribbon.

Wearing gowns of aqua net topped with lace bolero jackets and with pink tiaras in their hair, the candelighters carried white candles tied with pink flowers and ribbons.

Allan Meredith served as best man for the bridegroom, and seating the guests were Harry Lee, John Bradshaw, David McWherter and Robert Keggan.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church parlors. Centering the bride's table, decorated with white flowers and white candles, was a four-tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Serving were Mrs. Ralph Barkley, Miss Ann Ferguson, Miss Alla Lee Robinson and Mrs. Gary Glick.

When the couple left on a wedding trip East, Mrs. Curren was wearing a pastel yellow ensemble and the white orchids from her bridal bouquets. They will reside at 230 S. Seffner Ave.

Marion Garden Center Notes

WILD FLOWER GARDENS

A wild flower garden may be of any size, and a miniature one can be interesting and instructive. On small home grounds a collection of wild flowers can be grown in the shaded area alongside the house or under shade trees. Some wild flowers, however, do prefer sunny, dry spots. One of earliest to bloom is the hepatica. It lends itself to use as border plant for a wild garden since its foliage is evergreen. Some hepatica plants produce white flowers, and others lavender, purple or pink. The flowers grow about three inches high. They open wide by day but close and nod their heads at night. Hepaticas thrive in the shade but will also grow in the open. They like a neutral soil, rich in humus. New plants can be grown from seed. Propagation of old plants is by division. Another dainty flower for the wild garden, no matter how small it is, is the yellow adder's tongue, also known as trout lily and dog's tooth violet. It appears soon after the ground thaws, and as pale russet yellow blooms from one to two inches long, nodding from a six inch stalk. The leaves are mottled. This plant grows from a bulb. It prefers woods soil and partial shade.

A Re-Statement Of Policy . . . :

For a number of years Hughes Funeral Service has been supplying facts about funeral service and its cost. There has been need for this information.

Because it is so seldom required, funeral service is little understood by many people. Also there have been changes in firms since most of the families in this community last had occasion to employ a funeral director.

As a further step in this direction, we invite inquiry and inspection of our Funeral Home and other facilities. There is nothing about our service that the public may not know.

Bishop Visits Marion Parish

Sunday at St. Paul's Episcopal Church was a day of full activity on the first visit to Marion of the new bishop, the Rt. Rev. Nelson N. Burroughs. At the 11:45 a.m. service he confirmed 20 new members and gave the sermon. To greet him at the 8 a.m. service of communion, 40 men of the parish assembled, and following the service had breakfast. He spoke briefly and congratulated them on the program of improvement of church and Parish House and on the work planned for the future in the local parish, then stressed the diocesan missionary effort.

His sermon, incorporating a theme of paying tribute to mothers, dealt with the ideas of the gifts of service given by mothers, the gift from Christ to His followers, and what men owe in turn to mothers and to God. After the service, members of the Vestry and their wives together with the rector, the Rev. Frederick W. Leech, entertained Bishop Burroughs at the Marion Country Club. Sunday night he was scheduled to speak at a festival of the Episcopal Boychoir at Cleveland.

A car stolen Saturday night was found abandoned on a county road south of Marion Sunday by the Sheriff's Office, city police reported today. The car, owned by Woodrow Wilson of near Marion, was taken some time between 8:15 p.m. and 11 p.m. Saturday as it was parked on Campbell St. City police are investigating.

Gas "Stinkers"

NEW YORK (AP) — You can call them "stinkers" and they won't mind. They're the men whose job it is to add a special aroma to odorless natural fuel. This is done for safety in home and industry, according to the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association. One pine of the odorant, a sulphur derivative, will smell up a million cubic feet of natural gas. The gas absorbs the odor as it passes over a vat of the liquid or the odorant is injected directly intothe gas transmission line.

Three members of the Marion Junior Chamber of Commerce attended the convention held in Cleveland. Dick Lister, who has served as state vice president during the past year, was present, along with Charles Turner, president of the Marion Jaycees, and Ronald Powell.

Britain's Air Defense Not Yet Ready To Meet Major Attack

LONDON (UP) — Britain's fighter arm would be hard-pressed to repel a full-scale attack or deliver an effective counter - strike if war should come within three years.

Three of her five shore-based fighter-interceptor types now operational are known to have speeds under 600 miles an hour. Speed data on the other two are kept secret.

Flight Magazine, an authoritative British aviation publication, in its 1952 survey of World military air strength said three general Royal Air Force fighter types and three of the United States Air Force "would have to bear the brunt of any large-scale air fighting during the next two or three years."

Possibly only one of the six aircraft, the United States North American F-86 Sabre Jet, is completely on a par with the Soviet - built MIG - 15, which Flight said is the "only worthwhile yardstick" available for comparison purposes.

Types Described

The British types, all of which date in design from late in the war (although each has been modified from time to time), are De Havilland's Venom and Vampire and Gloster's Meteor. There are various night - fighter and fighter-bomber variations.

The single-seat Vampires FB-5 and 9 are powered by Goblin jets which give a maximum speed of 531 miles an hour. Armament usually is four 20 - millimetor cannon.

The formidable MIG-15 has a top speed of at least 660 miles an hour, making is 130 miles an hour faster than the Vampire. It probably is superior in other fields as well.

De Havilland's Ghost-Jet powered Venom FB-1 is more of a match for the Russian interceptor. Its maximum speed is secret but must exceed 600 miles an hour and probably is more like 640-650.

The Venom would be no match for the MIG in level flight and diving speed, Flight said, but because of its small turing radius and excellent handling qualities "might do well" against the Soviet plane at extreme altitudes.

In a class between the Vampire and Venom is the Gloster F-8, a 592-mile an hour fighter powered by two Rolls Royce Derwent Jets. This plane also carries four 20-millimeter cannon.

The Meteor is outclassed in the speed bracket by the MIG, Flight admits, but "might compete with the Russian machine on the climb at low and medium heights."

British naval aviation is a little better off in some respects. A Nene jet gives the deadly Hawker Sea Hawk Mark I a speed of 600 miles an hour. Also Nene-powered the Super-marine attacker can do 585 miles an hour.

The British bomber command still leans heavily on two venerable types—the British-built Avro-Lincoln and the American Boeing B-29. Both are four-engined craft and can carry formidable bomb loads thousands of miles, although at relatively slow speeds. The Lincoln's maximum is 244.

Production Short

The four - jet Vickers Valiant hailed as one of the best prototypes of its kind in existence, and the short SA-4, are a long way from mass production.

A twin-jet bomber now in service is the English Electric's Canberra but its numbers are believed to be limited.

On the drawing boards and, in a few cases, in existence in restricted numbers, are a whole array of deadly fighters, interceptors and ground-attack fighter-bombers—all crowding the 680-mile-an-hour mark and heavily-armed.

"In brief," Flight commented, "Britain now can display a comprehensive range of advanced prototypes, many of them unsurpassed in their own class."

"The production picture in Britain, as the world is well aware, gives far less cause for satisfaction."

House Torn Down For New Building

Probst Building Structure at Site Of Mouser Home

A familiar landmark in Marion since well before the turn of the century is no more.

The former home of Dr. H. K. Mouser at 141 S. Prospect St. has been torn down to make way for a new building. George H. Probst recently purchased the site for erection of a mercantile building. He said he did not wish to tell what the structure was going to be used for at the present time but he would give details in a few weeks.

Cost of construction of the new building was listed at $40,000 on a city building permit. It is being built by the Marion Contracting Co.

For many years the large frame house that did stand on the site was known as the A. H. Hord residence. It was purchased by him just after its construction in about 1884.

Some years after the death of Hord, the house was sold to R. T. Lewis and C. M. Phillips. Shortly after, it was sold to Dr. Mouser.

NEXT MISSION: HOME. Climbing out of his plane somewhere in Korea, Capt. William Gutches, of Wallington, N. J., completes his 500th war mission. Gutches, attached to the 67th Tactical Reconnaissance Wing, was slated for rotation home after his 55th mission in Korea, but he decided to stay until he finished 75 missions which, together with 426 missions during World War II, gives him a total of 500 missions in two wars.

Study America

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Right now the "Blue and White Club" has 72 members — all displaced persons from Europe. Next month there may be more or less depending on how fast the members are absorbed into the American way of life. As soon as the newcomers learn a little of the language, the customs and the peculiarities of the country they drop out. That's good news to the social workers who operate the organization. The club is sponsored by the Young Men's and Women's Hebrew Association. It was organized in 1949. When someone asked if people in Europe realize what America is like, one refugee member pondered and said: "The people back there know, but they can't believe it. I can hardly believe it myself."

GETS CHAIR BACK. Former Attorney General J. Howard McGrath may have lost his seat, but he has regained his chair. Smiling as he leaves the White House, McGrath explains that the piece of furniture he occupied as a Cabinet officer was a gift and he considered it his private property. He said he'd use it in his Washington residence.

Airmen Find Peary Cache Near Pole

Left There in Early 1900s on Expedition Of Arctic Explorer

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA (AP)—The daring North Pole Air Force plane-landing party has uncovered more of the Arctic's secrets.

One, a cache left by the Rear Adm. Robert E. Peary expeditions in the early 1900s, had laid hidden nearly a half century. Others, scientific secrets, are as old as the Arctic itself.

The air command told today of more of the work done by scientists and observers on the historic flight May 4 in which Lt. Col. William P. Benedict, of Paradise, Calif., landed a C-47 and took off three hours and 10 minutes later from the geographic North Pole.

These were some of the results:

The depth of the ocean below the ice was determined by a seismograph echo sounding at 14,150 feet.

The annual spring thaw was opening great cracks in the pack ice forming the Polar ice cap. M-Sgt. Edison Blair, Los Angeles, said new leads varying from a few feet to several hundred feet in width were opening on every side of the ice flow upon which the C-47 sat.

The Admiral Peary cache was found one one of the plane's flights and landings over the region. The plane was traveling at low altitude over Cape Columbia, Ellesmere Island, where the Peary expeditions left the last land to start a 500-mile trek over the ice.

The cache was spotted and upon landing the party found it contained names and dates between 1900 and 1908. There were four metal and wood boxes.

Museum Displays Indoor Coal Mine

CHICAGO (UP)—Chicago boasts the only coal mine in the United States that's never had an explosion, a cave-in, a strike or an accident in its 19 years of operation.

While real miners run it they don't get paid to mine coal. The mine is an exhibit in the basement of the Museum of Science and Industry on Chicago's lake front.

Mining operations are run by eight retired miners who still hold their UMW union cards but don't pay any dues.

The mine stays open every day of the year except Christmas and is one of the most popular exhibits in the museum.

No one knows just how much coal is in the mine. The coal came out of mines in Southern Illinois and was given to the museum by a mine owner.

The equipment in the mine was donated by manufacturers of mining equipment.

The oldest coal mine canary in the world sits on a cage in the museum's mine shaft. At one time, canaries were used by miners to detect the presence of methane gas.

The eight miners take visitors on tours of the mine.

KEEPS HIS HAND IN

BOSTON (UP)—A federal prisoner, being transferred to Illinois, was held overnight at the Charles Street jail here. After he had left, in custody, it was discovered next morning that he had stolen a new suit, a white shirt and gold cuff links from his cellmate.

32,000 Occupants Take Day Off

Pentagon Quiet on Sunday

PENTAGON CORRIDOR looks like this on Sunday.

WASHINGTON (AP) — King Tut's tomb isn't much emptier than the Pentagon on Sunday.

It is a day of rest for most of the 32,000 men and women who work in the world's largest office building—the "brain" of America's armed forces.

At 4:30 on a Sunday afternoon, you may see four persons sitting on benches beside the three tunnels where vehicles enter the Pentagon. They're waiting for buses, and none are in sight.

Weekday Rush

At the same hour on a weekday, hundreds form double lines to fill a dozen buses. Hundreds more pour down the ramps to wait for the next row of buses.

Sunday may find 200 automobiles huddled in corners of the three big parking lots. On weekdays, their pavement is hidden by 8,200 cars.

A Sunday sunset may light the path of two dozen young women in Air Force blue and half a dozen men in uniform, hiking toward the five-sided building. They'd be lost among the cars departing, bumper to bumper, on other afternoons.

Some Pentagon offices are manned around the clock, but workers who draw Sunday duty hear little but the echo of their own footsteps in the long corridors.

Employment at Record High

The 32,000 persons who work there now are an all-time record. About 70 per cent are civilians. Nearly all are on an eight-hour daytime shift. The shifts end variously at 4:30, 5 and 5:15 p.m., to cut down traffic jams.

Peak daytime employment during World War II was 26,500, but then the Pentagon contained only Army offices. Now it is headquarters for the Defense Department, Navy and Air Force as well as the Army.

FLOOD "INSURANCE." Widespread damage of the recent flood in Grosse Point, Mich., fresh in their minds, workmen are shown constructing a five-foot high bulkhead along Fox Creek as part of current flood prevention plan. The two-inch thick wall will protect homes in the well-known Detroit suburb against future high water.

Forgery Easy in U.S.

BELFAST, Northern Island (AP)—Forgery is easier in the U. S. than in Britain, says Dr. Cecil L. Wilson, of Queen's University, Belfast. Dr. Wilson, an expert on forgery, recently visited the FBI in Washington, where he was shown checks worth millions of dollars—all forged. "In the United States," said Dr. Wilson, "people are so anxious to do business and salesmanship is of such a high-pressure nature that a check will be accepted almost from anyone. In Britain, a check is more difficult to cash, hence check forgery is much less common."

Empties Treasury

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The distinguished Union Club, founded a half century ago by steelmaster Henry Clay Frick, finally has disposed of its last $500. Back in 1922 the club, which once had a membership of 800 prominent Pittsburghers, closed its doors. In 1936 the records were lost in a flood which engulfed most of Pittsburgh's business section. The directors couldn't decide who was entitled to the money. The club books were finally closed with a $500 gift to the local Red Cross chapter.

INCREASE PICKETING

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—Striking AFL commercial telegraphers today started what a union official termed "all - out picketing" of the Western Union office in the nation - wide walkout which started 39 days ago. Larry Bush, local union president, said the picketing action followed a Sunday meeting of about 250 members of the Columbus and Mansfield locals.

Eddie Pellagrini, infielder for the Cincinnati Reds, hit a home run his first time at bat in the major leagues with the Red Sox against Washington.

Theater, Car Broken Into

Cigarets, Food, Clothing Taken

Two breakins were reported by the Marion County Sheriff's office early Sunday morning.

The refreshment stand at the North Drive-In theater was entered and cigarets, wieners and "crackerjacks" valued at $15.62 were taken. Entrance was gained by prying open a door to the stand.

Similar items were taken two weeks ago when the stand was entered.

A car owned by William Adams of 330 Franklin St., was entered while it was parked at Pop and Jerry's Nite Club near Marion early Sunday morning. A light blue summer suit and nine dozen golf balls were taken. Entry to the auto was gained by breaking out a glass in a rear door. The value of the items stolen was not reported, sheriff's deputies said.

To Film Expedition

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — An Old Testament scholar and a film producer left recently on a flying trip to the Near East to record on film their archaeology expedition. The travelers, Dr. William Sanford LaSor and William Brusseau expect to be in Nippur, Iraq, soon to take part in pre-Abraham discoveries being made there. Other countries to be visited by the pair include Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Lebanon, Cyprus, Athens and Rome. Brusseau expects to use 20,000 feet of color film on the journey. Dr. LaSor, who says he speaks 20 languages, will act as interpreter and assistant cameraman.

Pipeline Protection

Our transmission networks for water, oil, gas and other commodities that are delivered thrpugh pipelines are subject to corrosion estimated to cost about $600 million a year. Reversing the electric potential of the buried pipes, making them have a slightly negative voltage, is now standard practice. Bureau of Standards tests have shown the voltage value that gives best protection for steel underground.—OSU Science & Appliance.

Week-End Riot Brings Threat Of Cold War

Sees Red Leaders Stepping Up Fight In East Germany

BONN, GERMANY (AP) — West Germany's impending peace contract brought a bloody weekend battle to industrial Essen and reports today that East Germany's Communist rulers are readying a drastic step-up in the cold war against the West and tighter Russian-East German ties.

One young Communist was killed in the Essen riot, in which police gunfire broke up a clash between anti-Reds and 30,000 Communist-led youths demonstrating against plans to rearm West Germany for western defense. Scores of demonstrators were injured and several were arrested.

Here in the capital, meanwhile, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer met with rebellious leaders from his government coalition forces. Their opposition to the peace pact threatens its chances of ratification by the West German parliament.

A BARE-HAND CATCH. Fourth grader Richard Truman, 9, holds a two-and-a-half pound Brown trout that he caught with his bare hands in a mill stream just below dam (background) near his home at Norway, Me. His mother, Mrs. Scott Truman, said Richie saw the trout basking in the sunlight at the foot of the falls. He piled into the stream, waded along the shore to the spot and then made two or three lunges before capturing the 20-inch fish.

U. S. DESTROYER HIT

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy announced today that two men were killed outright and six wounded, one of them fatally, when the destroyer James C. Owens was hit by six Communist shells off the northeast coast of Korea May 7.

SINGS FOR SUPPER. Time out for a snack is taken by gambler Harry Gross in Brooklyn's Borough Hall as he prepared to wind up his sensational story of alleged payments made to high New York police officials for protection of his bookie empire. After a long silence, the purported head of a $20,000,000-a-year bookmaking outfit began to "sing."

Vision Standard

PTTSBURGH (AP)—The ability to read letters on a chart across a room is not an adequate test of vision, says the American Optometric Association. "The 20/20 standard of vision is a fallacy which should be exploded," says Dr. J. Ottis White, association president. "It does not mean normal vision nor does it mean average vision. It is just an arbitrary standard set before we knew any better." Among requirements for adequate vision listed by Dr. White were ability to see clearly at about 15 inches, ability to make the two eyes work together, ability to judge distance and the ability to see over a large area while focusing on a point straight ahead.

Mailbox Paint Job

WASHINGTON, D.C. (AP) — Ever wonder why you rarely see a "Wet Paint" sign on a U.S. mailbox? Complications like sticky fingers and smudged clothes are avoided by replacing the mailbox with a newly painted one when a paint job is needed. In inland areas this is done every two or three years. In coastal cities replacement is made annually. Last year it took 9,000 gallons of quick-drying enamel to keep the ntion's mailboxes spruced up.

Swap Charges At Truce Table

MUNSAN, KOREA (AP)—The United Nations Command today sharply accused the Communists of using the Korea armistice talks for a propaganda sounding board.

The UNC communique said the Reds fired "their most vicious propaganda attack of the 10-month-old armistice negotiations" in a 34-minute "tirade, obviously prepared in advance" and "filled with invective, distortions and palpable lies."

Another plenary session was scheduled for 11 a.m. Tuesday (9 p.m. EST, Monday).

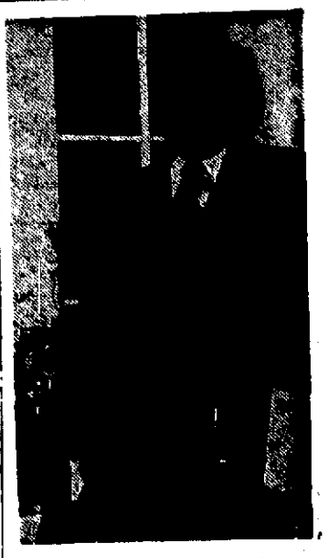
U.N. Bombers Wreck Communist Rail Lines

SEOUL, KOREA (AP)—United Nations warplanes today blasted the North Korean rail network with another of their new saturation bombings designed to make track repairs as tough as possible for the Reds.

The U. S. Fifth Air Force said fighter-bombers made 28 cuts in a short stretch on the vital Kanggye-Sinanju line near Huichon in the northwest. Nine U. S. B29s hit the Huichon rail bridge Sunday with 90 tons of bombs. Fighter-bombers cratered rails in more than 80 places on a small section south of Sunchon at the same time.

Gas in Tokyo

TOKYO (AP)—The Tokyo prefectural government hopes that exploitation of a large natural gas deposit beneath the city may eventually solve the fuel problems of this metropolis of five million persons. A survey just completed by the Japanese economic stabilization board estimates the potential beneath Tokyo at 52 billion cubic yards. American gas experts say this would be a sizable field, about one-third that of California's big Rio Vista field at the time of its discovery. The discovery well was drilled last March. It hit gas and warm salt water at 1,900 feet.



CALLS ON TRUMAN. Senor Felix Nieto del Rio, Chilean Ambassador to the United States, leaves the White House where he conferred with President Truman.

Wig Business Slips

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The wig business is taking a trimming here. Mrs. Grace Anderson, who runs a hairshop specializing in headwear, says repeat customers are procrastinating something awful. Wigs (which cover the entire head) and toupees (which don't) ordinarily should be replaced every two years or so but Mrs. Anderson reports with everything higher these days some wearers are making the old tops do. Toupee and wig prices here range from $75 to about $125. But it's not the initial investment that's the backbone of the business—it's the upkeep—hair-dos, cleaning and replacements. And that's where Mrs. Anderson says the economizing is showing up.

FAILED BAR EXAMS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Deputy Attorney General A. Devitt Vanech has informed House investigators that he failed bar examinations two or three times in the District of Columbia and at least once in Virginia before getting a law license from Tennessee in 1940. He is No. 2 man in the government's big legal department.

Rates High in Profession

Active as Surgeon at 88

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Dr. James P. Kerr may be 88 but his nimble fingers are just as surgically sure today as when he first hung out his shingle in 1889.

Then he was fresh out of the University of Maryland Medical School. By 1902 he was so well established in this steel city that he was called upon to help organize St. Joseph's Hospital. Two years ago he and his associates turned the hospital over to the Sisters of St. Joseph.

President for 40 Years

Dr. Kerr resigned as chairman of the board of directors, but for 40 years was president and now is honorary president and staff surgeon at the 170-bed institution.

A far younger man is hard put to keep up with the energetic doctor. Other surgeons regard him with admiration.

Typical of his outlook on life was his answer when a newsman asked for an interview: "All right," Dr. Kerr said, "but mind you, I'm not ready to have my obituary written."

Politically Active

A native of nearby Beaver County, Dr. Kerr's life story is intertwined with the history of Pittsburgh. During his medical career, Dr. Kerr kept an active interest in politics.

He is a former city controller and councilman and ran for commissioner of Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) and for mayor. His political observations are just as sharp as his scalpels.

DR. JAMES P. KERR

On the score of national politics, Dr. Kerr is a firm MacArthur man. Observes the doctor:

"After all, he's just a young fellow. He proved himself a good administrator in Japan."

Renew Morrow School Charter For One Year

Special to the Star

MT. GILEAD — Temporary charters of the Marengo and Sparta schools were renewed for a period of a year when the high school board of the State Department of Education met Friday in Columbus. No action on the charters had been taken at two previous meetings of the group.

County Representative Charles O. Wheeler met with officials of the board after the closed meeting and said that the extension was given by the state board with the understanding that the county committee, now set up, proceed with a study of the school situation of the entire county and to make an overall plan. Both schools have been operating on a temporary charter since last year.

Trachoma Curable, U.N. Body Reports

GENEVA (UP)—Trachoma, an eye disease prevalent in poor and backward regions of the world, is curable, according to a committee of experts who met here under the auspices of the United Nations Health Organization.

The disease hitherto has been considered incurable, but WHO tests carried out in the past 18 months among Arab refugees showed that some 80 out of 100 responded successfully to treatment combining sulfa drugs and such antibiotics as aureomycin and terramycin.

The WHQ expert committee on trachoma is made up of doctors from the United States, Japan, Italy, Portugal, Tunis, Algeria and Egypt.

Three Injured In Marion Area Auto Mishaps

State highway patrolmen today reported three traffic accidents over the week end, two of which involved personal injury.

Mrs. Marilyn Snyder of Mansfield, and Mrs. Alice Jannack of Buffalo were injured Sunday at 4 p.m. when cars driven by their husbands collided with a car driven by Albert E. Gadbois, 37, of Canton.

The Gadbois car was attempting a left turn from U. S. Route 42 on State Route 529 when the other two autos struck the car, badly damaging it.

Mrs. Snyder, an expectant mother, was badly shaken up. Mrs. Jannack received a fractured right foot and lacerations on the face. Both were taken to the Morrow County Hospital in the Craven ambulance.

Robert Snyder, 26, of Galion and George W. Jannack, 21, of Buffalo, N. Y. were both arrested and fined $10 and costs before Mayor Don Healea of Mt. Gilead on charges of unsafe operation of a motor vehicle.

Sunday at 11:38 p.m. a pick-up truck driven by Mrs. May E. Shepard of Waldo ran off U. S. Route 23 three miles south of Marion and struck a telephone pole and tore down 30 feet of fence and two fence posts.

Mrs. Shepard was taken to the Marion City Hospital in a Hughes ambulance where she was admitted. She sustained cuts on her hands and face. The truck was badly damaged.

A semi-trailer truck driven by Charles Kellog, 32, of Nevada was extensively damaged when Kellog fell asleep at the wheel and the truck ran into two walnut trees. The accident occurred in Nevada on Main St. at 1 a.m. Sunday.

Aged Explorer Plans Another Arctic Trip

MILWAUKEE (UP) — Cmdr. Donald R. MacMillan, Arctic explorer of Boston, says he is going to make another trip to the North Pole even though he is 77.

MacMillan said there are one million square miles of uncharted land in the Arctic, "and some of it may hold the key to the world's past and to the future."

He made his first trip to the North Pole with Admiral Robert Perry in 1908-09. If he returns to the Arctic late this year, it will be his 29th exploration.

The explorer said he will seek evidence that life began in the Arctic region while the middle sections of the globe were still too hot to permit life of any kind.

HORSES STILL IMPORTANT

DAVIS, Calif. (UP—The University of California farm school here still believes it is worth while to teach students how to get on a horse. The school announced it is continuing its courses in how to harness a team of horses, how to ride pleasure and stock horses and how to break a calf.

"SOCKO" IN LONDON. A couple of U. S. troupers, Sophie Tucker and Jimmy Durante give out with "Some of These Days" at a London night club, where she is currently wowing patrons. Durante has been equally and enthusiastically acclaimed at the Palladium, top variety house.

Says Men's Fashions Reflect World Unrest

CHICAGO (UP) — A clothing expert says men's fashions reflect world unrest.

Bernard Epstein of New York told the National Association of Retail Clothiers and Furnishers here that men turn to color and pattern in troubled times.

"The jazz suit and silk-stripe suit were born in the World War I period," he said. "World War II saw the birth of hand painted ties and colorful sportswear."

Epstein said the trend is toward sports clothes.

"Last year more than 55 per cent of men's cut and sewn shirts were sports shirts," he said.

HIS VIEWS FIXED

HASTINGS, Neb. (UP) — A Franklin County school teacher likes to tell about the quiet, shy youngster in her room whose family had some firm political views. The teacher was astonished to see the shy youngster push a playmate to the ground, administer a last blow and then say vehemently, "Never call me a Democrat again."

The word "cattle" formerly meant any form of property and was similar in meaning to "chattel."

Our fine reputation for offering service of the highest class was earned by our attitude toward our work. We proceed with each service as though our professional reputation depended upon the manner in which we handled each detail.

There is no routine here; there is no set pattern here, for we realize that funeral services cannot be placed in ready-made categories. Every service which we conduct receives individual planning and thought, with regard to the needs and wishes of those we serve. This type of attention leaves nothing to be desired.

Fertilizing Crops by Air Demonstrated

Plane Sprays Liquid On 20-Acre Wheat Plot at Airport

A public demonstration of fertilizing crops through use of air craft was termed a success Sunday afternoon at the Marion County Airport. Dr. Victor A. Tiedjens, authority on liquid fertilizer solutions and director of research for the Na-Churs Plant Food Company, said the plane piloted by Robert Ewing, partner in the Miami Valley Dusting and Spraying Service, did a "very good job" in covering the ground from the air with the liquid solution.

Some 50 carloads of people watched the demonstration which covered a 45-minute period. The plane landed once during the test to refuel. The 125-horsepower plane sprayed a 20-acre plot of wheat at the airport with two gallons of fertilizer an acre.

Leaf Feeding Demonstration

The demonstraiton was set by the Na-Churs Co. to illustrate how an airplane can be used in applying fertilizer to farm fields and also to demonstrate leaf feeding. Leaf feeding is one of the latest scientific methods of fertilizing growing crops. It is a method by which plant nutrients are applied to the leaves of growing crops in solution with conventional spray applicators.

The demonstration Sunday was sponsored jointly by the Ohio Aviation Board, Baker Aviation Corporation and the Na-Churs Plant Food Co. The Na-Churs Co. furnished the materials for the demonstration.

Spray Booms

Ewing's plane was equipped with spray booms and a special pump. The plane flew only a few feet above the ground during the application. Ewing piloted the plane over the field spraying 50-foot swaths at each pass. The plane traveeld at approximately 75 miles an hour during the application.

Ralph E. Young, agricultural aviation coordinator for the State of Ohio, represented the Ohio Aviation Board at the demonstration. He, along with other board officials were on hand to make observations during the test.

Dr. Tiedjens in observing the test following the flight said the fertilizer had been spread evenly over the 20-acre tract and that the plane had done a good job in covering the wheat.

They will speak on the state convention of Young Republicans in Columbus June 13, 14, and 15. Delegates from Marion County will be chosen at the meeting Tuesday night.

Minnows Show Up In Capital Street

WASHINGTON (UP)—A delegation of minnows tried to take a case to court here but couldn't get beyond a gutter puddle.

Several hundred minnows were found in a muddy-puddled condition trying to hurdle a curbstone in front of the municipal court. It is still a mystery how they got there.

Local "anglers" have narrowed the field down to three explanations. The fish were either left-over bait, the victims of a wind cone which transported them from their home creek, or—were backwashed from the Potomac River through a nearby sewer.

Building Battle Brews

Congress Must Decide Fate of Government's Low-Rent Housing Plan

By WILLIAM KERWIN
WASHINGTON

PRESIDENT TRUMAN has stepped right in the middle of the hottest housing fight in almost three years, demanding that Congress ignore industry appeals for an end of federal public housing projects.

The battle has been building up quietly during the past year but now has reached the point where Congress again will have decide, in effect, whether the government should support home building for low-income families

Government and industry officials predict the controversy will be compromised but not without a bitter floor fight in the halls of Congress.

In late 1949, Congress passed the so-called Taft-Ellender-Wagner Housing Law permitting federal loans to local authorities for public housing projects. The loans were to be repaid by tenants renting the apartments.

To Public Housing Administration officials, output under the law has been a cause for concern. The Korean war, shortages of materials, high costs and number local fights have been a constant factor in sharply curtailing the program.

At present, however, the construction outlook is improving and PHA wants to build more low-rent housing projects. This is violently opposed by the National Association of Home Builders and other real estate groups spearheading an unrelenting campaign to abolish PHA altogether.

One NAHB official declares: "We believe this is just plain socialism. If housing can be socialized so can any other industry. Moreover, the best method of providing homes for low-income families is through private enterprise. Public housing just provides jobs for bureaucrats."

ON THE OTHER HAND, public housing advocates argue that the program is needed because the building industry has demonstrated it is unable to provide decent homes for the nation's families earning less than $3,000 a year.

President Truman is supported in this contention y his top economic adviser, Leon Keyserling, Sens. Humphrey (D-Minn), Douglas (D-Ill), Tobey (R-NH) and other officials who have criticized the so-called "real estate lobby."

As the matter now stands, the House has appropriated enough funds for the 12 months starting next July to allow construction of 5,000 PHA dwellings. The President requested 75,000 units and NAHB opposed any building at all.

Both sides in the dispute are guessing Congress will recommend a compromise. PHA officials are expecting permission to build at least 50,000 units, the same number permitted in the current fiscal year.

Builders privately are hoping no more than 25,000 dwellings will be approved but the National Housing Conference, a public housing group, wants the goal of 135,000 PHA homes a year re-established.

MEANWHILE, THE HOME building industry is preparing to open a "save our cities" campaign designed to rid the nation of slums and encourage housings construction in otherwise run down metropolitan areas.

For some time, housing experts have been alarmed over the refusal of local groups to rehabilitate choice property sites in major- cities which have been allowed to fall into complete disrepair.

This has been largely responsible for the growing home building trend in suburban areas. Builders and buyers simply are not interested in homes located in or bordering on slum districts.

NAHB officials are planning to call a nation wide conference in August to do something about the problem. It will ask womens clubs, veterans groups and other business and social organizations to join the campaign.

The Building Association says tremendous progress on a cleanup program has been achieved in Pasadena, Calif., in the past two years and there is no reason why such work cannot be carried out on a national scale.

THE FEDERAL RESERVE Board is expected shortly to relax real estate credit controls as a follow-up on removal of the curbs on purchases of household appliances and home furnishings.

Board officials and industry spokesmen say immediate removal of home buying controls is not likely but there is a good chance the action will be taken sometime this summer.

It is understood the board is reluctant to act at the present time because home building is running at high rates. Production of household goods, however, has fallen off considerably, making it necessary to give the industry a "shot in the arm" through credit relief.

Love Triumphant

By ADELE GARRISON

Harry Underwood was beside himself with anxiety. I saw that clearly, and knew that I must act quickly to keep him from bursting in on Lillian.

As he stopped his tirade, and released my wrists, I thanked my stars for the training which enabled me to slip out of my chair and race to the door of the studio ahead of him: I turned the key in the lock, and slipped it into my blouse as I wheeled and faced him, arms spread across the door, and with my face and eyes alive with derisive laughter, the only weapon which I knew would disconcert him.

"Lillian is right when she calls you the 'wild ass of the Celebes,'" I told him. "Now, will you rein yourself in, while I pound some sense into you? In the first place, Lillian is perfectly well, physically."

The wild light went out of his eyes, but he shivered as if he were standing in an icy wind.

"I know you wouldn't lie to me," he said heavily, "but you said 'physically.' What d'ye mean by that?"

I banished the laughter from my lips and eyes, and faced him steadily.

"I've changed my mind," I said. "It isn't safe to tell you. You ought to know what I've found out. I think you could help me with Lillian. But it would be—terrible—if you went to her and told her that I had come to you for help in dealing with her."

He fairly glared at me for an instant. Then the anger went out of his face, leaving only a deeply troubled look. For several seconds his eyes held mine. Then he gave a deep sigh.

"I know when I'm licked," he said. "I've got to get to the bottom of this: I swear not to tell Lil I've heard anything from you—but—I don't promise to agree with your theory, whatever it is. Tell me what you think is wrong. But, first, come back and sit down."

He slipped his hand beneath my elbow, and took me back to my chair, seating me with meticulous courtesy. Then he sank heavily into the other chair, and I felt my sympathy stirring for the anxiety which was his, even as I realized that I must not count on the help from him on which I had based my hopes.

But theer was no use beating about the bush, nor postponing the issue. I leaned forward and spoke quickly, emphatically.

"Lillian has an obsession—it really amounts to that—" I told him, "about Marion marrying Ronald."

The tight muscles of his face relaxed with relief.

"Is that all?" he said. "Well! I haven't any obsession about it, but I think I agree with Lillian that marrying Ronald is the last thing Marion ought to do. Of course, I don't believe any of the hogwash Helena Brixton spread around. Ronald isn't in love with anybody else—but nobody knows what disease he may have—or what is the matter with him. He hasn't a cent except his pension. And that hellcat of a mother of his! Can you imagine the life which will be Marion's? I don't call Lillian's objection an obsession. It's only mother instinct and common sense."

"Perhaps," I said. "But that doesn't solve the problem. Unless you put Marion into a straitjacket and lock her in her room, under heavy guard, she's going straight to the Brixton home, confront Ronald, and tell him she's going to marry him with his consent, or without it."

had planned to release him during a flower-decked ceremony on May 11. They planned to garland the general with wreaths and march him between rows of POWS when they turned him over to Gen. Charles F. Colson, who was named camp commander when Dodd was seized.

Expected Release

Dodd said he told the Communist leader that since he had agreed in writing to several of the Red demands, he expected them to live up to their bargain to release him as soon as he had accepted.

The Reds finally agreed and escorted Dodd to the gate at 9:30 p.m.

Dodd said he "was informed that this action had been planned and that all compounds had been prepared to seize me if the opportunity arose."

The general explained his capture came about shortly after he was lured to the gate of Compound 76 at 2 p.m. Wednesday by a request for an interview from the "spokesman" of the compound.

He said the interview consisted of the usual Communist complaints concerning asserted "needs for additional food, clothing, medical supplies, etc., as well as a number of demands concerning forced repatriation, acceptance of Russia as a neutral nation and other matters not appropriate for such an interview."

Dodd said he had decided to break off the meeting when the Reds suddenly seized him at 3:15 and dragged him inside the compound. The statement did not mention Lt. Col. Wilbur Raven, who escaped when the Reds tried to grab him along with Dodd.

Long Series of Meetings

Then, the general said, a series of daily meetings was held with the prisoners. The Reds demanded the right to organize an association and read Dodd a long list of injuries which they said had happened to prisoners. Dodd was asked to disclose this list one by one.

A drafted agreement embodying details of the proposed organization was completed and handed Colson for signing. Colson signed, and after a series of translation foul-ups Dodd was finally released.

Dodd explained that the Reds had intended to hold him for a ten-day series of conferences with leaders of Compound 76 and two representatives of all the other compounds on the island, which holds 80,000 prisoners, most of them die-hard Communists.

Dodd agreed to talk to the representatives, but the American to wind up the talking in a hurry, show of force convinced the Reds Dodd said.

about nine o'clock he would let us know," she said.

The next morning the group appeared at the door and after some delay, were admitted to a room where "there were a lot of books and pamphlets" and they could take "anything" they wanted "without payment."

Later they were escorted upstairs where they were shown huge paintings of Stalin and Lenin —"15 feet, probably 20" — other mementos to the Red leaders, and the banquet and reception rooms.

Though their tour was not accompanied by any Communist sales talk, Miss Horvitz said that they "gave us so much material that was full of propaganda" that "they probably thought that was enough."

picked up two delegates apiece and four were uncommitted in district meetings.

Virginia — Two delegates for Taft were elected and two not yet tied down were said to be leaning toward Eisenhower.

Nevada—Republicans chose 12 uninstructed delegates. A poll of the delegates by the Associated Press howed seven for Taft, two for Eisenhower and three undecided. The Democrats picked a 10 vote delegation of 20 men and a poll of 16 showed seven for Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia, one each for Gov. Adlai Stevenson of Illinois and Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma and seven undecided.

Michigan a 40-vote Democratic delegation was pledged to their Gov. G. Mennen Williams, as a favorite son candidate.

Utah — a 12-vote Democratic delegation was chosen but none would express a preference to newsmen. Favorable opinion was expressed for Kefauver, Kerr and Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman.

The Wyoming and Rhode Island conventions touch off a politically-packed week, with activity also scheduled in West Virginia, North Dakota, Vermont, Oregon and Hawaii.

Students Visit Soviet Embassy

WASHINGTON (UP) — Visiting high school students were admitted to the Russian embassy in Washington because of their curiosity.

The group had toured the city and viewed its historical sites. One night as they were passing the Soviet legation—not on their list of "places to visit"—the temptation to see what was beyond the blinds was too much.

They were trying to peer through the blinds when an embassy employe came to the door. The students said they would "like to come in and see the embassy." The unexpected request apparently so surprised the doorman that "he didn't seem to know what to say to us," said Enid Horvitz, a Providence (R. I.) high school senior.

FIRST AID TO AILING HOUSE

—By ROGER C. WHITMAN—

Small Cracks In Doors

Q.: A year ago we had new cabinets built in our kitchen and the doors are of three-quarter-inch plywood. Recently, we have noticed small cracks running in length from one inch to about eight inches. They are very fine and can barely be seen. It seems that both the paint and the wood surface of the door are affected. Can you tell us what to do to cover the cracks and how to keep them from cracking again.

A.: I presume the doors are of fir plywood. If so, they should be given a coat of a special preparation made for flattening the grain of this type of wood and to keep it from checking (cracking). Dealers in plywood and lumber usually stock this material. To prevent and correct the condition on your doors, it will be necessary to remove the present finish down to the bare wood and then apply the preparation. Before refinishing, fill all cracks with spackle.

Warped Lid Of A Chest

Q.: I have a very old blanket chest that has been stored in the basement for several years and the moisture has warped the lid so that it does not close down tightly. I would like to know if I could straighten this cover so that the chest can become useful.

A. Place the lid on blocks of wood with the concave sides up. Then place about thirty pounds of weights on each of the high ends and allow to remain for several days or until the lid has become straightened. Be sure that it is well finished to protect it against moisture by varnishing or painting before putting it back on the chest.

Sulfuric acid is twice as heavy as water.

WHAT'S BEHIND A RED'S SMILE? You wonder, looking at these two Communist negotiators leaving a truce session at Panmunjom, Korea, where the big stumbling block is whether all or only willing prisoners will be returned to the Reds. At left is Chinese Gen. Pien Chung-wu, and at right, North Korean Col. Chang Chun San, chief Communist liaison officer. A full break in plenary truce sessions occurred over prisoner return just before they left the tent.

a President has to meet a national emergency. Or, the whole case could be sent back to the lower court for further arguments and findings.

There was no indication when the high court would hand down its decision. It could be within days or not for months.

The court set aside six hours for the two sides to present their viewpoints, starting this afternoon.

The veteran attorneys representing the administration and the steel industry are basing their oral arguments on briefs filed with the court Saturday.

Acting Atty.-Gen. Philip B. Perlman, who as solicitor general argues federal cases before the high court, is presenting the Justice Department's stand. Now 62, Perlman in the past five years has argued 55 cases before the court — more than any solicitor general in history — and won 45 with a few still undecided.

The steel companies are represented by 78-year-old John W. Davis, considered one of the nation's top constitutional lawyers. Davis served as President Wilson's solicitor general from 1913 to 1918, declined an appointment to the Supreme Court by President Harding and ran unsuccessfully for president as the Democratic candidate against Calvin Coolidge in 1924.

Steel Companies' Stand

The steel companies' brief contends the government was attempting to impose compulsory arbitration, was trying to settle a labor dispute by "executive fiat" and was bypassing the Taft-Hartley Act, which the brief said Congress intended for deadlocked labor disputes.

The Justice Department argued the President in seizing the mills acted to meet an emergency through powers set forth in the Constitution. The department's brief called this "a grant of all the executive powers of which the government is capable."

"It has never been supposed that the limits of the President's duties are marked by the literal terms of statutes," the Justice Department declared.

The steel union, as an interested party in the dispute, filed a brief calling its wage talks with the industry a sham. It said the real fight is over how much of a price increase the government would grant the industry to offset higher pay for the 650,000 CIO Steelworkers.

The President seized the mills when the union threatened to strike over the owners' refusal to accept a Wage Stabilization Board (WSB) recommendation for a 26 cent an hour package wage boost. Among side provisions, the recommendation called for a union shop under which all workers would have to belong to the union. Steelworkers now receive slightly under $2 an hour.

The owners contended the WSB proposals would raise productions costs as much as $12 a ton and the government would allow only a $3 a ton price increase.

Price Administrator Ellis Arnall repeated Sunday night that $3 is all the steel companies are entitled under the Capehart amendment. This provision permits price rises to compensate for added costs between the start of the Korean war and last July 26.

No satisfactory census has ever been made of the number of people in China.

Useable Vitamins Found in Sludge

CHICAGO (UP) — Dr. Bernard Wolnak of the Milner Laboratories, Chicago, reports that a high grade fertilizer made from the solids of sewage may have other uses.

Milwaukee was a pioneer in developing the activated sludge process which changes sewage into fertilizer.

Milwaukee sells 65,000 tons of fertilizer each year made by the process. It is shipped to all parts of the United States, Mexico and the Hawaiian Islands.

Wolnak said recent experiments showed that large quantities of vitamin B-12 were present in the dried sludge and a process has been developed to isolate it from the rest of the sludge.

He said that experiments have been made with portions of the sludge to step up the fermentation of yeast. In some cases, the fermentation time has been reduced from 10 to 20 per cent.

"It is intriguing to speculate on the future of the sludge," Wolnak said. "We've found that it contains one unknown vitamin-like material and one known but scarce vitamin in large amounts, in addition to smaller amounts of many known vitamins. Perhaps the sludge will turn out to be the coal tar of the vitamins."

WHY DID THESE MEN FEAR TYRANNY IN ANY FORM OF GOVERNMENT?

EACH OF THESE WELL-EDUCATED MEN HAD STUDIED HISTORY.
THEY KNEW HUMAN EXPERIENCE FOR THOUSANDS OF YEARS.
THEY KNEW THE DANGERS OF TYRANNY IN EVERY FORM OF GOVERNMENT.

- THEY KNEW KINGS AND DICTATORS HAD BECOME TYRANTS BY HAVING GREAT AUTHORITY OVER THE INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS OF THE PEOPLE.
- THEY KNEW THAT, IN A REPUBLIC LIKE ANCIENT ROME, REPRESENTATIVES OF THE PEOPLE BROUGHT TYRANNY BY IGNORING INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS
- THEY KNEW THAT DEMOCRACIES BECAME TYRANNICAL WHEN MAJORITY RULE DESTROYED INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS OF MINORITIES

THEY KNEW THAT THE INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS TO LIFE, TO LIBERTY, TO EARN, HOLD AND DISPOSE OF PROPERTY COME FROM GOD AND NOT FROM GOVERNMENT... THAT THESE GOD-GIVEN RIGHTS ARE SUPERIOR TO ANY AUTHORITY ON EARTH — AND KINGS, DICTATORS, REPRESENTATIVES OR EVEN THE MAJORITY OF THE PEOPLE CANNOT RIGHTLY INTERFERE

SO, OUR FOUNDING FATHERS FORMED A REPUBLIC IN WHICH THE RIGHTS OF INDIVIDUALS WERE SUPREME.

THIS WAS THE FIRST AND ONLY TIME IN HISTORY THAT GOD-GIVEN INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS LIMITED WHAT GOVERNMENT MIGHT DO!

IN 1789, OUR GOVERNMENT WAS LIMITED BY INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS BUT TODAY, INDIVIDUAL RIGHTS ARE LIMITED BY OUR GOVERNMENT!

IN 1789, our government was the responsibility of the people. But today people have become the responsibility of our government.

In 1789, Americans were free from the tyranny of government. People were responsible for supporting and limiting their government — and for making their own living.

Today, people are forced to pay for unlimited government. And government-planners and controllers have taken on the responsibility to feed, clothe, and house the people; the responsibility for old age; the responsibility for dividing the national income among those who produce it and those who do not produce; the responsibility of telling people what they should buy or sell . . . for how long or how hard they should work and under what conditions; the responsibility for deciding what buyers of food who live in the city should pay to producers of food who live off the soil.

Government-planners now resort to subsidies, loans, penalties, rules and restrictions which interfere, limit, ignore, and destroy the God-given individual rights of the people.

In the name of Democracy, government-planners assume they have the same medieval wisdom which brought tyranny to all forms of government throughout all history!

Lively Ball Disappears As Hurlers Enjoy Field Day

Indians, Yankees Win On Pair of Two-Hitters

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

What happened to the lively ball? Like the dodo bird, it appears to have become extinct.

Remember when those pitchers were wailing about too much jackrabbit in the ball? That was only two years ago. Now the hitters are doing the moaning and groaning. And with good reason.

Just look at these figures of futility on the part of the batters:

The major league season is less than a month old and already 28 shutouts have been pitched. American League hurlers, who have turned in 17 whitewashing jobs, have spun seven 1-0 games to equal their full-season total of 1951.

Bob Lemon of Cleveland and Allie Reynolds of the New York Yankees pitched brilliant 1-0, two-hit victories Sunday. That boosted the total of low-hit games this year to 35. Recently, Bob Feller of Cleveland, Bob Cain of the St. Louis Browns and Art Houtteman of Detroit, hurled one-hitters.

Four Homers

Only four home runs were hit Sunday. That raised the two leagues' total to 217, exactly 70 fewer than the 287 hit last year at a corresponding date.

Lemon's two-hit victory was followed by Mike Garcia's eight-hit, 3-1 triumph. It enabled the Indians to sweep a doubleheader from the Browns.

Reynolds, who hurled a no-hitter against the Red Sox last September, nearly duplicated the stunt. The only hits the Red Sox got Sunday were first-inning singles by Dom DiMaggio and Verne Stephens. Hank Bauer singled off loser Mel Parnell with one out in the fifth, advanced to second on a grounder and scored on a line single by Irv Noren.

The Senators defeated the Philadelphia Athletics, 5-2 in 11 innings of the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain washed out the second tilt after two scoreless innings.

With the bases loaded and two out in the 11th, Eddie Yost raised a pop foul. Elmer Valo and Skeets Kell let the ball drop in foul territory behind first, and Yost singled on the next pitch to drive in two runs.

The Detroit Tigers snapped their seven-game losing streak, nipping Chicago, 2-1, after the White Sox had won the first game of the doubleheader, 6-5. Rookie George Lerchen's eighth-inning single drove Johnny Lipon home from second with the winning Tiger run in the eighth.

Minnie Minoso's two-run homer and strong relief pitching by Saul Rogovin, another ex-tiger, won the opener for Chicago.

The Dodgers whittled New York's National League lead to one game, edging Philadelphia, 4-3, in 10 innings.

An error set up Brooklyn's winning run. Pewee Reese got a lift on Granny Hamner's bobble, stole second and scored on a two-out single by Ray Campanella.

Chicago split a twin bill with Pittsburgh. The Pirates, who had lost 20 of 24 starts, rallied to whip the Bruins, 11-2 after losing the opener, 8-2.

The scheduled doubleheader between the Giants and Braves in Boston was ponstponed because of rain.

Cleveland Man Tops Keglers in ABC Event

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Frank Sospirato, Cleveland beer salesman, provided the major fireworks Sunday in minor events play in the American Bowling Congress Tournament.

He slammed 1,894 in all events for a nine-game average of 210.4. He had 642 in team Saturday night, then came back Sunday with 617 in doubles and 635 in singles.

Veteran Walter Ward of Cleveland, who has rolled seven 300 games in league play and has a lifetime average of over 200, paired with Roland Cresante for a 1,257 doubles count, best of the day. Ward put together games of 205, 191 and 228 while his partner gave him 189, 215 and 228 for 632.

Adcock Leads Cincy To Win Over St. Louis

Redleg Outfielder Blasts 2 Homers In 8-5 Victory

ST. LOUIS (AP)—At least two members of the Cincinnati Reds—Joe Adcock and Bob Borkowski—probably hated it today because they had to leave the very pleasant (to them) confines of St. Louis' Sportsman's Park.

The Reds closed out a three-game series Sunday by taking an 8 to 5 decision from the Cards and Borkowski and Adcock had themselves a merry time with Cardinal pitching.

Borkowski got two hits in two times to give him a string of five consecutive safe blows — three Saturday night and the two Sunday. Adcock was even rougher on the Cardinal hurlers. He clubbed them for two home runs and a single.

In the three games here Borkowski had five hits in 11 tmies at bat and Adcock had six blows in 10 times at bat.

Borkowski's splurge here gave him seven hits in his last 19 times at bat after a very slow start in early games of the season.

Meet Giants

The Reds were due in New York today where they'll open a swing around the eastern half of the circuit by meeting the Giants Tuesday night. They're still seeking their first victory over the National League champs, having dropped both decisions to the Giants in games in Cincinnati.

Harry Perkowski went the route Sunday for the first time as he marked up his third victory as against one defeat. He limited the Cardinals to eight hits and never was in any great danger after his mates picked up five runs in the middle three innings of the game.

The first of Adcock's homers was a blow into centerfield bleachers in the second. The other came in the fourth and it was an inside-the-park wallop. The one tied the score and the Reds got two more in the fifth on a walk to Roy McMillan, a double by Grady Hatton and a single by Bobby Adams.

The Rhinelanders put the game out of St. Louis' reach in the sixth with another pair of runs on Borkowski's double, Joe Rossi's infield hit, a passed ball and McMillan's single.

Five Horses Entered Preakness Warmup

BALTIMORE (AP) — Bettors will get a better line on four of the 15 possible starters for Saturday's $75,000 added Preakness in the prep here this afternoon.

The small field of five includes Gustav Smith's Handsome Teddy, Mrs. Gordon Guiberson's Arroz, Brookmeade's Roaring Bull and Max Kahlbaum's gelding, Jampol, all Preakness possibilities.

The fifth entrant in the $10,000 prep, Montpelier's Pinter, is not a Preakness starter.

ROLLS 1,646 SERIES

CHICAGO (AP)—Joe Kapella 53-year-old Canton, O., railway clerk, Sunday night rolled a 1,646 series to move into second place of the $28,000 De Vito Bowling Tournament. The race for a $3,000 first prize ends next Sunday with the target being 1,661 bowled by Chicago's Carmen Salvino a month ago.

Of every 100 hen eggs placed in incubators, it is estimated that about two dozen fail to hatch.

FONDY SCORES FOR CUBS. Chicago Cubs First Baseman Dee Fondy (center) slides safely across home plate, scoring after the catch on Bob Ramazzotti's fly to Pittsburgh Pirates right-fielder in fifth inning of first game of twinbill at Chicago. Catcher Ed Fitzgerald of the Pirates tries for putout. Umpire is Augie Gugliemo. Cubs won, 8 to 2.

Lemon Wins Duel

Tribe Increases Lead, Bumps Brownies Twice

CLEVELAND (AP) — Joking, easy - going Bob Lemon won't crack under the strain, but his Cleveland Indian team mates are making his victories come the hard way this season.

When Lemon blanded the St. Louis Browns 1-0 on a two-hitter in the opener of Sunday's double header, it was the fifth game in which the Tribe has scored no more than one run for him.

Bob didn't get that run until the last of the ninth with two out, and he started the winning rally himself by beating out a roller to second base.

The victory was important, too, for it was the first this year over the Browns who had beaten Cleveland three straight. The Indians took the nightcap 3-1 to boost their hold on first place to two full games over Washington and Boston.

To get back to Lemon and his hardships, the 31-year-old right-hander is shooting for the 20-game-winner class which he missed last year for the first time in four seasons. Sunday's triumph was his third against two losses and his second 1-0 shutout. He hurled a 1-0 three-hitter at Chicago in the season opener.

Not counting four innings of fine relief work in which he saved two victories for Bob Feller, Lemon has pitched six games. In those six starts he hurled 51 innings, and the Indians gave him only seven runs.

Mound Battle

Lemon and Ned Garver of Ney, O., put on a red-hot pitching duel for 27,726 customers at the Stadium. Each had a one-hit shut-out going into the tense final inning. Clint Courtney singled off Lemon in the fifth, and Harry Simpson singled off Garver in the sixth.

Gordon Goldsberry beat out a hit to shortstop and was stranded in the St. Louis half of the ninth. Lemon led off the Cleveland half with his infield hit, but was forced at second on Simpson's sacrifice attempt. Then Bob Avila blooped a single which he explained afterward:

"The hit-and-run is on. He throws a pitchout. So I throw the bat."

With Simpson on third, Al Rosen was walked purposely. Larry Doby batted for Ray Boone and fanned. Enter Outfielder Dale Mitchell, the hero. He grounded a single past Garver, and while it rolled into centerfield, Simpson ran home.

"If I had been alert enough as I followed through on the pitch, I would have knocked the ball down," Garver said afterward, "That's what makes Lemon such a great fielder. He moves into position for the ball just as he completes his delivery."

Garcia Wins

The nightcap had none of the first game's suspense. Mike Garcia chalked up his fourth victory by scattering eight hits, and the Tribe pecked away at three Brownie hurlers for only five.

St. Louis got 14 men to first base, but left 12 stranded. Manager Rogers Hornsby used six pinchhitters, and one base on balls was all that came of it. Three other pinchhitters fanned, one hit into a double play and one flied out.

Goldsberry and Courtney singled in the fourth, and two infield grounders brought Goldsberry around.

Southpaw Bob Cain, who tossed a one-hitter at Cleveland in St. Louis last month, yielded an Indian run in the second and another in the third. That was enough to make him the loser.

Boons scored the first one after singling and advancing on Mitchell's sacrifice. Bob Kennedy's single brought him home. Avila walked stole second and scored on Rosen's single in the third.

After Earl Harrist replaced Cain in the fourth, Mitchell doubled off him and scored on Birdie Tebbetts' single.

Former Indian Gene Bearden held Cleveland hitless the last three innings.

Mangrum First In Pan-Am Tourney

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Veteran Lloyd Mangrum was $2,000 richer today after winning the first annual Pan-American golf tournament. He started the final round deadlocked with Tommy Bolt, the Durham, N. C. pro.

Mangrum carded a total of 279 for first money following Bolt's collapse. The Chicago shotmaker had a last day 34-35—69 over the difficult par-72 Mexico Golf Club course.

Bolt, whose 64 on opening day raised eyebrows all over the course, did not better than a 40-35—75 and a 285 total.

Big Frank Stranahan of Toledo was the top amateur, a spot he usually takes. He was sixth with 294.

Sam Snead Wins Greenbrier Open At Home Course

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W.Va. (AP) — There's no place like home, of course, and for Sam Snead there's no place like his home course.

Sam proved it again Sunday with a four-under-par 66 in a drenching rain to win the $1,800 first prize in the Greenbrier Open, played over the layout where he also picks up loose change as golf professional.

It was the slammer's fourth straight sub-par round and gave him a 72-hole total of 264. His 16 strokes under par were six better than the second-place effort turned in by Ed (Porky) Oliver of Lemont, Ill., who pocketed $1,000.

Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., copped third with a 271 and $700 in prize money.

Two Californians, Jim Ferrier of San Francisco and Jimmy Clark of Laguna Beach, were right behind with a fourth place tie at 272. They split $950.

Shire, Drake Meet In Armory Bout

Roy Shire and George Drake will meet in the main event of Thursday night's wrestling card at the armory. Shire will be defending his title in the 60-minute bout for two out of three falls.

In a semi-final bout, George Macricostas will tangle with Frank Hurley. That bout also will be for two out of three falls over a 60-minute bout. Tom Steele will meet Bob Leipler in a 30-minute opener.

Managers Start Verbal Scrap As Title Bout Nears

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Challenger Lauro Salas of Mexico can take this for what it's worth, but here's a thought from the camp of world Lightweight Champion Jimmy Carter:

"Salas can't win the title by running and hiding. We hope he makes a fight out of it instead of a track meet."

Official spokesman for Carter was his manager, Willie Ketchum, who elaborated, referring to the 15-round title scrap Wednesday night:

"Jab, hold and run. You can't win a fight that way. That's what Salas did last time. That's what he's doing now."

Later Salas' Manager, youthful Roger Leighton, retorted: "Let Carter fight his fight. We'll fight ours. But we aren't going in there just to go 15 rounds. We're in there to win the championship. Lauro gave Carter all he wanted in their other fight. He'll do even more this time."

It is estimated that there are about 70 million illiterate adults in Latin America, says the National Geographic Society.

Little League Teams Set at Player Auction

Pilots Issue First Call For Practice

Teams have been set for the Marion Little League baseball programs and managers have started practice for the season which opens Monday, June 2.

The teams rosters were set last week at a player auction set up after completion of tryout sessions two weeks ago. Managers of each team were awarded a total of 36,000 credits with which to buy players for his team. The players were purchased with these credits, on the same plan used by the Major Leagues.

Players purchased at the auction by the managers will remain the property of their present teams during their entire Little League careers or until sold or released by their club. However, the club rosters will be cut to a 15-player limit five days prior to the opening games.

Little League commissioners pointed out that brothers who were candidates for positions were auctioned under the family name in order to avoid separation. That means that brothers became members of the same team at the auction.

Closed Meeting

The auction was held with only team managers and other league officials present. The meeting was closed in order not to allow players to discover the amount of credits used in their purchase.

At least two teams are set for practice. The Goodyear Tire squad will begin practice tonight at 5:30 at Lincoln Park and the Marion County Bank team also has a session set. Other team managers have not been heard from.

The players selected for the various teams in the two leagues follow:

Locke Fails To Qualify For Tourney

African Ace To Serve As Alternate In Golfing Round-Robin

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Some idea of the fantastic class of the field which will compete in the Palm Beach Round Robin Golf Tournament at New Rochelle this week may be gained from the fact that Bobby Locke of South Africa, a mighty fine club-swinger, failed to make the grade.

He will be employed only as an alternate player and assistant radio commentator.

The practically peerless Bobby, twice winner of the four-day charity classic in the past five years, will not be asked to pay his way onto the Wykagyl Course, but he will be permitted to play only in the event that one of the fabulous 16 in the starting lineup comes down with the galloping shingles or is otherwise incapacitated.

IT ISN'T THAT LOCKE loused up the tournament in the four times he has been invited. In addition to winning it in 1947 and 1949, the latter with a whopping "plus" score of 66, he was runner-up in 1948 and finished in a tie for sixth a year ago. It is just that this country, England and the Argentine are so loaded with gifted golfers at the moment that room could not be found for the dour Afrikander. That and the fact that our PGA, which names 12 players for the round robin, can take Bobby or leave him strictly alone.

The golden dozen picked by the PGA to tee off on Thursday are Sammy Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Jack Burke, Jimmy Demaret, Cary Middlecoff, Skee Riegel, Jim Ferrier, Clayton Heafner, Ed Oliver, Marty Furgol, Doug Ford and Jerry Barber. They were chosen on the basis of money winnings for the year. Ben Hogan is about the only American name star missing, and the little wonder will be too busy practicing to defend his open title to compete for any crown less valuable.

The sponsors, left with four berths to fill, invited Roberto DeVicenzo, the Argentine hotshot who won the event last year and tore right back home; Max Faulkner, the reigning British Open champion; Byron Nelson, who can outgolf any other cattle raiser in Texas, and Claude Harmon, who is the Metropolitan Open champion and a gallery favorite hereabouts.

Marion Drivers Grab Honors In Speedway Race Session

Despite cool and threatening weather, 1,450 racing fans turned out for Sunday's stock car events at the Marion Speedway.

Four Marion drivers, Paul "Dusty" Hooper, Bill Kromer, Ted Rambo and Roy Hobson, garnered most of the laurels during the second session of the season.

Hooper repeated his opening day victory by finishing ahead of the pack in the 25-lap feature event. He also won two elimination heats. Rambo was second and Bill Williamson came in third in the feature race.

Kromer was a double winner, finishing first in the figure eight and sharing honors with Rambo in the suicide event, in which there are two winners. Rambo was also an elimination winner. Paul Betts won the other elimination.

Hobson set a new track record for stocks during the time trials. He raced around the track in 24 36 to shatter the former mark, 24.62, held by Dick Grice.

Louie Louck flipped over in the time trials and was rushed to City Hospital for an examination. However, he returned to the track and drove in the feature event. There were several minor accidents during the afternoon but all drivers escaped injury.

One entry in Sunday's races was Ray Wentz of Indianapolis who failed to place in any of the events.

Blues Take Second In AA Standings

By The Associated Press

The red-hot Kansas City Blues smashed Indianapolis 13-1 Sunday to move back into second-place of the American Association race as leading Milwaukee swept a doubleheader from Louisville.

Kansas City remained 1½ games behind the Brewers while Louisville dropped from second to third, three games off the pace and one-half game ahead of fourth-place Minneapolis in the torrid first division struggle.

Columbus' doubleheader at Minneapolis and Toledo's at St. Paul were rained out.

Milwaukee blasted Louisville 13-2 with Johnny Logan slugging a grand-slam homer to cap a six-run first inning off Rush Kemmerer.

George Estock twirled a six-hit shut-out as Milwaukee won the afterpiece, 3-0.

Nothing Like Cards' Park, Says Adcock

ST. LOUIS (AP) — "There's nothing like Sportsman's Park for hitting home runs," said Outfielder Joe Adcock today.

The Cincinnati left fielder clubbed two homers against St. Louis Sunday, giving him three for the weekend series here. It also gives him two for the season.

The other park he's found easy is Forbes Field in Pittsburgh, where he pounded the other two —another two-in-one-game feat —April 20.

The 24-year-old Adcock had one objection to Sunday's performance.

"I don't like the inside-the-park kind so well," he said. "It's sure a long way around those bases when you're in a hurry."

Adcock started his power work against Cardinal pitching with a triple April 22 in Cincinnati—good for both runs in the Reds' 2-1 decision over Wilmer (Vinegar Bend) Mizell.

Mizell again was the victim as Adcock homered last Friday night with two runners ahead of him to help the Reds' big seven-run, seventh inning. Cincinnati took that contest 8-3 after breaking up the Redbirds early 2-0 lead.

Sunday's blows were off Cloyd Boyer.

Adcock had no ready explanation for why he has become so effective against the Cardinals, especially here.

"The ball just comes where I want it, and I let go," he said.

Buckeyes Entertain Michigan Baseballers

CHICAGO (AP) — Illinois, breaking on top in the Big Ten baseball pennant chase with a five-game victory streak, will head up this week's 15-game conference card with a three-game series at Ohio State.

The Illini meet the defending champions, now in sixth place with a 4-4 mark, in a single game Friday and a doubleheader Saturday.

Illinois defeated Northwestern 2-1 and 3-2 Saturday.

Wisconsin and Ohio State split. The Buckeyes won the first, 25-12, with a 20-hit assault and the help of 10 walks. They scored nine runs in the first inning. Wisconsin rebounded for a 9-7 victory, collecting seven runs in the opening frame.

Michigan walloped Michigan State, 10-2, but lost the second, 4-0.

Purdue swept a doubleheader from Iowa, 3-2, and 4-1.

N.Y. Stock Quotations

NEW YORK (INS)—The stock market moved along placidly today with most trading favorites showing only minor price changes from last week's closing levels.

Wall Street attention was directed to the Supreme Court hearings at Washington where arguments began today in the bitter legal battle over the government's right to seize the steel industry. The belief continued widely held that the present period of quiet dealings would continue until the high court's decision was handed down.

Among the industrial leaders, U. S. Steel was unchanged; Chrysler off ⅛, General Motors off ⅛; Montgomery Ward up ⅜; Standard Oil of New Jersey up ½; General Electric up ⅛; Bethlehem Steel off ⅜; Westinghouse up ⅛; and Republic Steel unchanged.

In the rail group, Santa Fe was up ¼; Baltimore & Ohio off ¼; Pennsylvania off ⅛; and Rock Island unchanged.

The 11 a.m. price averages were distorted by the many stocks which were quoted ex-dividend today. The Dow Jones industrial index was off 37 cents, but since ex-dividends accounted for 38 cents, actually a negligible gain was recorded. The rails were off 30 cents, of which ex-dividends accounted for 20 cents. The utility average rose seven cents.

Volume for the first hour totaled a subnormal 140,000 shares.

Suggests War Exhibits To Catch Criminals

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (UP)—A device to help law enforcement agencies capture America's most wanted criminals was suggested by George A. Hamid at his Steel Pier showplace here

Hamid urged amusement park operators throughout the nation to revive the wax museum exhibits which were so popular years ago.

"If life-like figures of wanted criminals were to be put on display in wax museums" Hamid said, "the public would be able to view the true features and characteristics of the criminals and thus be aided in spotting them for the police, should they see them in person '

The amusement impresario said the device was used in France many years ago and wax museum exhibitors aided French police tremendously in detecting sought criminals.

Hamid is planning to be among the first to set up such wax museum exhibits of wanted criminals, in cooperation with the FBI and state and local law enforcement agencies, at his pier next month.
